Orange WPA County Begins Drive to Drop Alien Workers

RELIEF RULE REQUIRES ACTION

Conference Held Today
To Set Up Provisions
Of Eligibility

Officials of Orange county WPA today began a campaign to slash all aliens from work relief rolls.

The move, necessitated by provisions of the emergency relief appropriations act of 1936, will entail examination of all Mexicans receiving work on WPA. Manager Dan Mulherron said.

A conference between county officials and Oakley Hall, labor manager from division headquarters at San Diego, today was expected to result in setting up of provisions under which Mexicans will be examined for eligibility.

To Demand Proof

All workers will be required to furnish proof of their citizenship, it was explained. Those who came originally from some other country will be asked to give proof of their legal entry, in case they are resident aliens.

Questionnaires probably will be distributed among all workers, in the same manner that the investigation is being carried on in other districts. Any disclosures of illegal status will result in immediate dismissal of the worker.

Many Mexicans

In the three years that WPA, SERA and other government relief agencies have functioned in Orange county, this is the first move to certify workers as to citizenship.

At one time virtually one third of the relief load here was composed of Mexicans, and it is felt that many of these are not legal residents of this country.

Most of these cases have been dropped from WPA at this time for seasonal private employment, Mulherron said, and will not be returning to the work rolls until fall.

Plane Pyre for Pilot in Crash

HOLLISTER, (AP)—Allen Rising, 23, was burned to death today when his plane crashed into a tree and burst into flames. Rising came to California five years ago from Camas, Ida.

The accident occurred on the Norton ranch, three miles west. Marvin Norton, 16, the only eye witness, said the right wing of the plane struck a tree when Rising apparently misjudged his speed. The pilot had been carrying loads of sulphur and it caught fire and added to the fierceness of the flames.

Jail Too Hot, So Prisoners Sleep At Own Homes Now

SELMA, Ala., (AP)—Honesty is the coolest policy. Twenty trusty prisoners in the Selma jail are allowed to go home each night to escape the stifling heat inside the cells.

So far not one has failed to report back on time each morning.

Second of Siamese Twins Succumbs

MEDFORD, Mass. (AP)—A baby girl Siamese twin who lived nearly 30 hours attached to the body of her dead sister, died this morning.

Dr. John J. Vernaglia, 31-year-old physician, who had been preparing for a delicate and difficult operation to separate the joined skulls of the twins, had announced earlier that the five-pound girl was losing strength.

The twins were born Wednesday night to Mrs. Diego Fiorenzo, already the mother of two normal children. The larger of the Siamese twins, weighing seven pounds, died a few hours after birth.

The backs of their heads were joined by a three-and-a-half-inch bony growth, and Dr. Vernaglia said he was uncertain whether or not their brain tissue was connected.

Dr. Vernaglia said death was

With pastures burned to a crisp and a milk shortage threatened, farmers in southern Illinois, one of the areas stricken by drought are fighting desperately to pull their corn through. ### SEEKING NEW WATER LAW

Ordinance To Be Given
Board Regulating
Gun Clubs' Use

A new ordinance regulating use of water by Orange county gun clubs will be presented to the board of supervisors in the next few days.

In this connection it was revealed today that not only is gun club water use to be regulated, but an entirely new ordinance is being considered which would regulate irrigation water use as well as govern domestic use.

A committee representing the board of directors of the Orange county water district is now working out final details of the gun club ordinance. This committee, consisting of C. Roy Browning, Tustin; Frank Champion, Laguna Beach; and William Schumacher, Buena Park, has been conferring with A. W. Rutan, attorney for the water district.

Champion said today the ordinance will regulate the amount of water which gun clubs can use legally, but said the exact amount is still to be determined.

In this connection, he said, another ordinance is being considered which would regulate use of irrigation water. (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 4)

Racing Plane in Crash; Pilot Hurt

DENVER, (AP)—Riley Burrows, 230-pound Los Angeles pilot, was injured today when his midjet racing plane crashed near here as he was tuning it up for the mile high air race.

Physicians said Burrows suffered back and leg injuries, but his condition was not critical. The plane, with a wingspread of only 11 feet, plunged about 500 feet and overturned twice, after striking the ground.

caused by "gradual weakening and inability to assimilate nourishment given yesterday."

Even had it been possible to operate successfully, he said, there was only one chance in a thousand that the baby would have lived.

He said he would have performed the operation if there had appeared any likelihood the baby would have survived it or if the body of the larger twin had not been maintained in a state of good preservation. The doctor said the body of the first twin had remained in good condition and he had done everything possible to strengthen the smaller, living child.

Unaware that she had given birth to twins, the 23-year-old mother lay in a Lawrence Memorial

Lands in Flames

Jacqueline Cochran, Los Angeles beauty shop operator and flier, who escaped with her life today when she landed at the Indianapolis airport in Howard Hughes' flaming racing plane in which she was making a cross-country dash.

Aviatrix Escapes Death
At Indianapolis In
Hughes' Racer

INDIANAPOLIS, (AP)—Miss Jacqueline Cochran of Los Angeles landed an airplane in flames at a 100-mile-an-hour speed at the Municipal airport here today and jumped from the ship uninjured.

Miss Cochran was piloting the plane in which Howard Hughes, motion picture producer, established several speed records.

She was enroute from Kansas City to Columbus, O. As she neared this city she said a loose connection in the oil line started the fire.

Miss Cochran streaked for the airport, the ship in flames. The blaze was extinguished quickly by a fire truck at the airport with little damage to the plane.

May Run for Governor
The Post-Intelligencer, in a copyrighted story today, quoted Zionscheck as saying he may run for governor of Washington this fall because he would have charge of all the insane asylums in the state.

"I have been considering that recently," the congressman was quoted as saying. "Now, since my experiences include insane asylums, it looks more attractive to me than ever. If I were governor, I would have charge of all the insane asylums in the state and I would get rid of a lot of these so-called insanity experts."

The newspaper quoted Zionscheck as saying he would support President Roosevelt for re-election, "not because of any particular confidence in him, but because there is no much else to do."

'ZINNY' DUCKS AUDIENCE

Ignores Crowd Waiting
At Station When He Reaches Seattle

SEATTLE, (AP)—Greeted by several hundred spectators, Rep. Marion A. Zionscheck returned to his home town today.

The congressman paid no attention to the crowd. Dressed in a tan suit, blue shirt and a grey felt hat, Zionscheck stepped quickly from the train on which he traveled from Chicago, and was almost carried by his escort to the car friends had provided.

Eyes Downcast
A big black cigar was gripped firmly in his teeth as he moved with downcast eyes through the crowd on the station platform.

Other passengers on the train said Zionscheck's bride, the former Ruby Nix of Texarkana, Tex., boarded the train at Ellensburg last night.

The couple had breakfast together on the train this morning. Mrs. Zionscheck arrived here last night by plane over the same airway which declined to carry her husband. Friends took her by automobile to Ellensburg, about 130 miles east of here.

Visits Sick Mother
After Zionscheck's party was loaded into the waiting automobile on the station platform, the congressman was taken to a sanatorium for a brief visit with his mother. After spending a few minutes there, Zionscheck went to the family home.

Zionscheck's quiet reception here contrasted with the welcoming crowd of 1500 persons and a brass band who met the train at Spokane last night. Zionscheck remained locked in a compartment during the Spokane demonstration while the band played such airs as "The Bear Came over the Mountain."

RAIN AND U.S. 'MOVE IN' ON DROUGHT

Showers Fall In Some States; Purchase of Cattle Ordered

DULUTH, Minn., (AP)—Relief in the form of rain and a three-fold program of government aid cheered residents of drought-ravaged agricultural sections of the nation today.

Showers fell in Southern states and in the Great Lakes region. In many cases they meant the difference between a fair crop and none at all.

Precipitation was forecast for the parched upper Mississippi valley. But there was no moisture to soften the hardpan prairies of Minnesota and the Dakotas—focal points in a widespread $250,000,000 drought.

U. S. to Buy Cattle

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace authorized federal purchase and processing of up to 1,000,000 head of distressed cattle in North Central states. Even as he took the action here yesterday, livestock was being shipped from sun-seared pastures in the Northwest by the trainload. The movement at some centers equalled that of disastrous 1934.

At Washington, officials indicated $5,000,000 would be used in removing cattle from burned-out ranges in a joint undertaking by the AAA and the Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation. The meat products will be donated to state relief agencies for distribution. It was indicated extensive buying would not be necessary if drenching rains occur in the next fortnight.

WPA Maps Program

Works Progress administrators in Minnesota, the Dakotas, Montana and Wyoming completed plans for construction of farm-to-market roads and water conserving dams. They hoped to put the first contingent of an army of 50,000 cressless farmers to work in several days.

In the national capital, President Roosevelt's special drought committee shaped a general assistance program. Reports to the Resettlement administration indicated 100,000 farm families would need aid.

Trio Quizzed in Fireman's Death

CINCINNATI, (AP)—A former opera singer, her chauffeur and a second woman were held today by Indiana state police investigating the disappearance of Capt. Harry A. Miller, wealthy retired Cincinnati fireman, and the finding of the head and hands identified by three persons as those of Miller.

Sheriff George Pulskamp of Franklin county, Ind., and Indiana state police took the trio, Miss Flora Miller, 66, sister of the slain captain; Heber L. Hicks, her chauffeur, and Mrs. Laura Kuss, all of Cincinnati, from the Brookville, (Ind.), jail for an undisclosed destination.

Store to Remain Open Tonight; All Closed Tomorrow

The mail will not go through tomorrow, and for 24 hours, the wheels of business will cease to turn in Santa Ana, as the entire city observes the 160th anniversary of the Declaration of Independence, made July 4, 1776.

When stores and business houses close at 9 o'clock tonight, they will not re-open until Monday morning. Open houses, normally observed on Saturday will be kept today, to permit late shopping before the holiday.

Postmen will take one of their few holidays of the year, tomorrow, Postmaster Frank Harwood announced today. There will be no city or rural route delivery, and postoffice windows will be closed.

County and city offices and banks will be closed for the day.

Why Fireworks?

Well, the History Books Say--

No 'Gold Digger'

By ROCH BRADSHAW

Why isn't a firecracker a piece of cake? Sounded silly. But, to let the fuse burn down close to the powder, why is a firecracker, anyhow?

Thousands of Orange county citizens tomorrow will burn up many thousands of dollars in Roman candles, skyrockets and pinwheels. By then they'll be so tired they'll be like the pinwheels are in their heads.

When they stop to think about it, all the folks will remember they are celebrating the nation's Independence day. But not many will have time to ask themselves why a firecracker is a firecracker. They won't be particularly interested in figuring out why they celebrate the Fourth of July by shooting fireworks instead of eating cake and turkey like they do on Thanksgiving day, or presenting folks with gifts like they do on Christmas.

Why is a firecracker? Philip Dowds says: "It's just a carryover of a silly custom that should be abolished." Dowds evidently favors a safe and sane Fourth.

But apparently fireworks on the Fourth aren't so common in some parts of the country. A. T. Holmes, cigar stand proprietor, said when he came to California from Texas, he was surprised to find that we used (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 1)

SUIT AGAINST HELEN ENDS

Plaintiff Just Wanted
Chance to Prove She Isn't 'Gold Digger'

CHICAGO, (AP)—Circuit Judge Walter J. Labuy today entered an order ending by agreement the $100,000 heart balm suit of Carol Frink against Helen Hayes, the actress.

As the trial convened for the afternoon session of the third day, Miss Frink's lawyer, Sam Golan, said:

"All Miss Frink wanted was a chance to tell her story so that her friends and those who worked with her would know what her motives were."

Miss Frink brought the suit in 1932. MacArthur married Miss Frink in 1920 and they were divorced in 1926. He married Miss Hayes in 1928.

MacArthur commented: "I'm glad I was the goat, and not Miss Hayes." Miss Frink dropped the suit in the midst of testimony, to clear herself of any implication, Miss Frink's attorney said, that she "was a gold digger."

Natural Gas Rate Inquiry Ordered

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—The railroad commission announced an investigation today into natural gas rates of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation, Southern California Gas Company and the Southern Counties Gas Company.

The announcement stated that several industrial concerns have complained the surplus natural gas rate schedule of the three companies are "unreasonable and discriminatory."

A hearing before Commissioner W. J. Parr will be held at Los Angeles Aug. 6.

Aged Couple Burn To Death in Crash

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—An aged couple burned to death today when fire followed an automobile collision on the Ridge route, the sheriff's office was informed.

The victims were John Torggrimson, 72, and his wife, Ana, 60, of Los Angeles. Miss Maxine Rideaux of Beverly Hills, an occupant of the Torggrimson car, was severely burned.

SECRET ORDER ADMITTED

Stout, Rum Chief, Says
He Issued Ruling On
Minor Entertainers

SACRAMENTO, (AP)—George Stout, liquor administrator, told the state board of equalization today it was true an order was issued several months ago telling enforcement officers not to molest minors employed where liquor is sold, under certain conditions.

Its purpose, he said, chiefly was to permit student musicians to work during their apprenticeship and to permit the continued employment of college students in some summer resorts during vacation time.

The "confidential" note for publication on it he said was to permit liquor control agents to use some discretion. If the order had been published, he declared, it would have applied wholesale, whereas it was intended to apply only where in the board's opinion no abuse or evil consequences would result.

However, he said, there apparently has been an abuse of it and he recommended cancellation.

Board Member Fred Stewart made a motion rescinding the order and it was passed.

Drought Sends Bean Prices Up

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—Further demand from southeastern and midwestern drought sections forced prices of California beans higher during the week ended July 1, the Federal-State Market News Service reported today.

Prices on principal classes ranged from unchanged to as much as 35 cents per hundred higher and averaging 8 cents per hundred higher than a week ago.

Let's Go to a Chinese Movie

Yes, they have Chinese movies. But they make them in Hollywood. Right now one of the big studios is filming Pearl Buck's "The Good Earth." You'll want to know how the movie men translated this tragedy of old China into a masterpiece of the American screen. How they grew a 500-acre Chinese farm in the dry San Fernando hills. How they changed a Viennese flicker star into a Chinese farmerette. And how they made actors and actresses out of 2000 Chinese recruited along the West coast from Mexico to Canada. Read all about it tomorrow in the Five-Star Weekly section of The Journal

DEPUTIZE 150 TO PROTECT PICKETS

Issue Orders to Shoot If Trespassers Refuse to Leave Groves

More than 250 armed men, carrying revolvers, shotguns and clubs, patrolled Orange county today to protect lives and property against strike agitators, following an attack this morning in which strikers showered stones on a truck loaded with orange pickers.

The army included sheriff's officers, special deputies, picking crew guards, and members of the California highway patrol.

Fires Pistol
Nearly 175 men were added to the armed forces last night and this morning, as packing house workers and ranch guards were sworn in wholesale as deputy sheriffs.

One special deputy already had halted a group of agitators by firing his pistol this morning, and officers had in custody five men asserted part of a band of 30 which showered stones on a truckload of pickers.

One, Carmen Perez, 28, La Habra, was jailed and immediately sentenced to 90 days for assault. The other four were being questioned and held on a technical count of trespassing. They were F. Mejia and Jovito Barajas of La Habra, and Ramon Guzman and Mauricio Jaurugui of Alta Vista camp, arrested after the fracas by California highway patrol officers.

Worker Injured
The latest incident in the wave of citrus strike violence occurred early this morning as a truck loaded with pickers was going from Corona camp to the Trueblood ranch, La Habra. As it passed through a cut in the road, the truck was attacked by the band of strikers, perched on the high banks above the road. In the shower of stones, one worker was reported to have suffered a dislocated shoulder.

Deputize 150 Men
Tony Threap, truck driver and special deputy, leaped out of the truck, fired his pistol into the air, and called to the group to halt. They scattered, and Lopez arrested Perez.

Sheriff Logan Jackson and District Attorney W. F. Menton last night addressed a meeting of 175 packing house men at Fullerton, explaining procedure in keeping order. More than 150 were sworn (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 1)

Rescue Two Men From Cave-in

SANTA MONICA, (AP)—Two workmen, trapped in a storm drain project cave-in, were rescued alive today by fellow laborers. The two, Mark Bixel, 29, and George Andrade, 25, were only bruised, although Bixel was completely covered by dirt for five minutes and Andrade was pinned by the legs and body with his face remaining free.

HUNDREDS IN TEXAS FLEE FLOODS

Water Spreads Damage Over Wide District; Loss in Millions

CUERO, Tex. (AP)—Hundreds of lowland people, warned by disaster upstream, fled from the muddy waters of the notorious Guadalupe river today and gave way to its ruinous spread over the coastal country of south Texas.

Damage to property and to crops nearly ready for harvest mounted from the $3,000,000 mark. Twenty-three persons are known dead, mostly in the area between Austin and San Marcos.

Emergency Acute

The emergency today was most acute between here and Victoria, a city of 11,000 where the lowlands appeared certain to be flooded. As the crest passed here last night, 25,000 farming acres were inundated and 40 negro boats were evacuated. Motorboats carried the refugees to safety.

Three days of devastating floods in the Cuero section and in the region a few miles south of the state capital, at Austin, brought damage to property and crops to an estimated $3,000,000.

Livestock Loss Heavy

Definite reckoning of the total damage was not possible immediately, but the Cuero Record estimated damage in this section alone would be near $1,000,000. Loss of livestock was heavy and crops were total losses.

County Judge Willis Ellison estimated the Guadalupe's rampage cost the Gonzales county section at least $1,000,000. C. C. Wade of San Marcos, farm loan agency representative, estimated more than $500,000 damage was borne by the eastern half of Hays county.

MORE ABOUT FIRECRACKERS

fireworks on the Fourth of July.

"In Texas, where I was born, fireworks were a special sort of Christmas celebration," Holmes said. They lasted all week, from Christmas to New Year's day. I guess it's on account of the war. The firecrackers sound like guns and that's the way we celebrate victory."

Sam Sender, merchant, didn't know how the custom began, but he knew a good story.

"There was an old German who hadn't been in this country very long," he said. "He was staying in bed on the morning of one Fourth and the firecrackers were making a terrible racket. Rolling over in bed, he mumbled, 'Py gollies, I wish the other side had won!'"

Kids' Noisy Day

George Hind, salesman:

"Looks as though they want to give the kids one day a year to make noise, anyhow."

Said Mrs. W. H. Keeton: "It's just a natural way of celebrating. A lot of noise because of the gaining of our independence."

Jack Milman explained: "We have fireworks on the Fourth because they sound like cannon and the shooting in the Revolutionary war that preceded the Declaration of Independence."

According to the history books Milman was just about right. There weren't any "cake eaters" in the Revolutionary war. So cake is out as a July Fourth feature.

What History Says

History says that when the Declaration of Independence was signed, the people received the news with great rejoicing. Cannons were fired and great noise was made. For the next two years cannons were fired on the Fourth. In 1779 the idea of fireworks gained favor. Ever since then the custom has grown more and more popular.

Fireworks were used, however, long before that. In 1588 fireworks of the sort that could be used at that time were used as accessories of public pageantry. During the seventeenth century and subsequently most occasions of national rejoicing were celebrated by displays of fireworks. There was a fireworks display in London when the peace of Aix la Chapelle was celebrated in 1749.

Grandmother Is Jailed on Drunk Driving Charge

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—The sentencing of a 54-year-old Phoenix grandmother to 30 days in jail for driving an automobile while intoxicated was launched today by the constitutionality of Arizona's "drunk driving" law which makes a jail sentence mandatory.

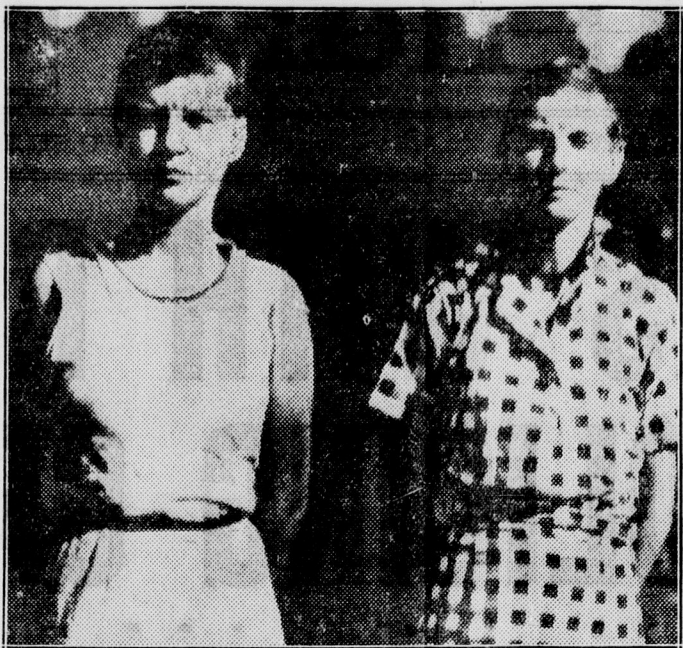

The law, enacted little more than a year ago, removes from the courts the right to suspend sentences for drunken driving and makes mandatory a jail sentence of from 30 to 90 days.

The grandmother, Mrs. Florence Beebe, was given the minimum.

RUNAWAY TRIP TRAGIC

LONG BEACH, (AP)—A tragic end to his runaway trip from his home in New York came today to Reed Hopkins, 16. The youth tried to jump on a load of lumber to get a free ride. He slipped, and the truck passed over his left leg.

Flogged By Masked Men

OLD AGE SECURITY TOTAL MAKES JUMP OF 400

Basing his estimate on a possible 1200 aged who will qualify for benefits this year under the new social security laws, B. V. Curry, county welfare director, today had included $108,000 in his tentative budget for submission to the board of supervisors.

Under the plan recently adopted by the state legislature the county pays one-fourth, the state one-fourth, and the federal government one-half, bringing the expected expenditure here to $432,000.

Total Grows

Curry said that about 800 qualified for old age security last year, but the rate of applications under the more liberal plan indicates a total in the neighborhood of 1200.

Preliminary figures, based on the contingency that the federal government may not adopt California's plan for blind and children's aid, give a total estimated budget of $305,700, but this may be reduced to $236,000 at the option of the board of supervisors, Curry said. The board could eliminate provisions for revolving funds for the aid departments where federal participation is expected.

Up to Board

Curry is also leaving to supervisors decision on whether $18,000 included in his figures is to be set up for sponsoring of WPA projects.

Following is the tentative welfare budget: WPA sponsorship, $18,000; children, $50,000; aged, $108,000; burials, $4500; transportation, $5000; merchandising accounts, $41,000; blind, $11,000; administrative overhead, $54,100; rent, $100,000, and utilities, $1800.

DENY NEW TRIAL TO MAUNDER

George H. Maunder, Laguna Beach negro, who was convicted last week on charges of failing to provide for his children, was denied a new trial today when he appeared before Superior Judge James L. Allen. He was granted a hearing next Friday on his application for probation.

John J. McTigue, Santa Ana, pleaded not guilty to a charge of issuing a fictitious check and a jury trial, which was set for July 27.

In Kelly pleaded not guilty to a charge of bigamy and was ordered to stand trial July 22. He did not ask a jury.

Lester Moore pleaded guilty to a fictitious check charge and asked probation. A hearing was set for next Friday.

MORE ABOUT STRIKERS

in as deputies at that meeting, and more deputized this morning at the sheriff's office. Many ranchers, in addition, were obtaining permits to carry concealed weapons. Jackson refused to divulge the total number of men working under him.

"These strikers started this violence, and we're going to see that lives and property are protected," Sheriff Jackson said. "These pickers have been attacked with deadly weapons, with chains, knives, and clubs, and we're going to see that it's stopped."

Guards Can Shoot

"From now on, when a gang starts coming into an orchard, the guards will presume there is violence intended. Under the law, the guard may call to them to halt, then shoot if they do not stop."

At 1 p. m. today highway patrolmen took into custody 15 men in the vicinity of Orange, who assertedly were on their way to a grove to intimidate workers. No act of violence had occurred. The men were taken to the sheriff's office for questioning.

A surprise visitor at the county jail yesterday was Lillian Monroe, militant strike sympathizer from Los Angeles, who said she wanted to leave money for the jailed strikers. Sheriff's officers discouraged her.

To Eject Families

Several score of families from Corona camp, to be ejected from packing house-owned houses there, are said to be preparing to fight the dispossession. Reports said they had an attorney who would apply for an injunction keep the packers from clearing the premises. Some are considering returning to Mexico, it was said by Lucas Lucio, Mexican consul's representative.

Lucio today repeated his statement that he no longer is identified with the strike. Lucio referred to published statements that he has attended strike meetings and said that he only goes to these sessions upon invitation from the men.

"I am not taking part in the strike direction nor will I be responsible in any way for what may occur in the strike," Lucio said.

Return To Work

A group of Mexicans from Independence colony have given up the strike and returned to work, reports from Anaheim said.

TRAFFIC COUNT TO BE MADE

Distribution of county road maintenance money next year will depend upon results of a traffic count to be conducted here July 12 and 13 in a cooperative study by the county and the state highway department, Nat H. Neff, county road commissioner, reported today.

Crews of checkers will count traffic on principal thoroughfares and intersections to correlate counts already made on farm roads and secondary roads in the county. Also to be used in the determination, Neff said, are results of a check made in 1934 by the federal bureau of public roads, the state highway department, the county, and WPA.

Neff also is completing an inventory of county roads, their condition, and classification. He said the total budget request for road maintenance will not vary much from last year's, but may be lowered to some extent.

TRACES TRAIL OF PIONEERS

The trail of Marcus Whitman and Henry Spalding into the Oregon country was traced Thursday for members of the Lions club by Rev. O. Scott McFarland, recently returned from a trip to the East.

Whitman and Spalding, he explained, were the first missionaries to go into the Northwest, and their wives were the first white women to enter the country. With fur traders and Indians as guides, they traveled from Missoula to a point near Walla Walla, Wash., making an average of 14 miles a day.

The speaker traced Whitman's return journey, made to Washington, D. C., to plead with officials for the retention of the country against the wishes of the Canadians, who wanted it given to England. He told of the massacre of Whitman's settlement in an Indian raid soon after their return.

"These people had faith in the future of the Northwest," he said. "They left all the comforts of home, led by the love of the unknown."

Responsible in any way for what may occur in the strike," Lucio said.

Return To Work

A group of Mexicans from Independence colony have given up the strike and returned to work, reports from Anaheim said.

Two more Mexicans were in the county jail today. Jose Gomez, 33, San Juan Capistrano, was booked by federal authorities on a charge of illegal entry. Domingo Llamas, 26, Whittier, was held on a technical vehicle code charge.

Efforts of agitators to carry the strike from Orange county into the Ontario-Cucamonga district were reported today, with distribution of leaflets titled "strike news" to citrus pickers there.

The leaflet demands union recognition, 40 cents an hour for pickers, and free transportation. It accuses newspapers of misrepresenting facts and warns high school students against working for citrus ranchers.

PLEAS ARE TO BE FILED IN TAXI CASE

Charged with two felony counts of kidnaping and robbery, Jerry Vance and Don DeBord, youthful alleged assailants of Harold Marshall, a Laguna Beach taxicab driver, today heard information filed against them in superior court.

The two prisoners, both 18 years old, were formally charged before Superior Judge James L. Allen.

Further Charge

Lacking funds to employ an attorney, they heard Judge Allen appoint John Martell to represent them. The court set 1:30 p. m. today as time for answering the information.

Besides the two charges filed here, on which they were bound to superior court Wednesday by Orange justice court, they may face further charges of assault with a deadly weapon and robbery, placed against them in Laguna Beach. They have both been arraigned at the beach city, and preliminary hearing is set for July 31.

Recalls Crime

The information filed by Deputy District Attorney James L. Davis asserts they kidnaped, robbed and shot Marshall on the night of June 16 in a lonely spot on Laguna canyon road. Marshall, his legs completely paralyzed from a bullet in his spine, is in St. Joseph's hospital, where the Orange court convened Wednesday to hold Vance and DeBord for trial here.

On conviction of kidnaping under California's "Lindbergh law," they may be sentenced to death or life imprisonment without parole.

gation and domestic water. It has been suggested that such an ordinance might require soil analyses to determine the amount of water different soils require, in order that regulation might be enforced equitably.

Excess On Lawns

Use of irrigation water has been on the decline in citrus groves as tests have shown that in the past too much has been used for the good of the orchards. There still are cases, however, where excess water is being used.

Domestic use of water also would be regulated in the proposed ordinance. It is believed that in many cases water is wasted in irrigating lawns. It is well known that plumbing fixtures often use for more water than is necessary. It is believed that regulation of these uses would conserve large quantities of water.

Irrigation companies now regulate use of water by their patrons through charging extra rates after a certain amount of water has been used.

Seek Solution

The Orange County Farm bureau, in order to solicit opinion of its members on the water question, has sent out a questionnaire. The introduction says that the "decline in the water level is costing farmers in the county more than $300,000 per year for extra pumping charges alone, over what pumping charges would cost on the 1920 or 1921 water level basis."

The questionnaire offers five possible courses to pursue in conserving water, as follows:

"If additional water can be secured at a price which the grower and expected to be grown will justify, then such water can be imported.

Limits Suggested

"The conservation of storm waters now being wasted.

"The elimination of wastes.

"The limiting or prohibiting of non-beneficial uses.

"The limiting of water for beneficial use."

The farm bureau statement says that in 1932 an ordinance was passed which prohibited use of water by gun clubs, but that this has since been amended, allowing clubs a certain amount of water. The farm bureau has not agreed to this regulation, the statement said.

'SPY' ERRAND RELATED BY WITNESS

How she ran errands for Harry Thompson after he was jailed as an asserted spy for Japan, and how she was sent away from the Japanese consul's office in Los Angeles when she brought a message there, were related today by Janet Ono, diminutive Japanese waitress.

Miss Ono testified at the trial of Thompson, former Orange county jail prisoner, in Los Angeles district court on charges of conspiracy to violate the espionage act by selling United States navy secrets to Japan, according to Associated Press dispatches.

She appeared reluctant as a witness, but finally admitted the office to which Thompson sent her from his jail cell was that of "Hori, the Japanese consul."

"What's the matter with you, Janet?" cried a young Japanese man who accompanied her, jumping to his feet in the courtroom.

Thompson and Lieutenant-Commander Toshio Miyazaki of the Japanese navy were indicted by the federal grand jury after two years' investigation by navy officers of the asserted sale of confidential information to Japan.

Miyazaki, former student at Stanford university, is now believed to be instructing in the Japanese naval college at Tokyo.

A motion to dismiss spy charges against Thompson was denied by Federal Judge Leon Yankwich.

"I am convinced," said the judge, "that there has been more than ample proof that Thompson turned over information to a citizen of a foreign nation, namely Japan, and that that citizen was in the employ of the naval establishment of Japan."

Miss Ono said she saw only the consul's secretary when she attempted to take a message there. The secretary, she said, told her, "I don't know Mr. Thompson," and excused her.

At yesterday's hearing Willard Turntine, former roommate of the prisoner, told of visits to navy ships and bases, and said several times Thompson secured records and information. He said Thompson told him he "was working for the Japanese government and getting $200 a month and bonus."

The prosecution expected to finish its case today.

TO TELL VALUE OF PROPERTY

Orange county's assessment roll, to be presented to the board of supervisors Monday afternoon by Assessor James Sleeper probably will show little change from last year's total of $191,962,630, Sleeper estimated today.

He was unable, however, to give complete figures, as his staff worked today to bring the rolls to completion. Last year's figure showed $100,407,350 in real estate, $58,287,880 in improvements, and $33,249,635 in personal property for a total of $191,962,630. Added to this were money, solvent credits, stocks and bonds to bring the total to $200,411,450.

Beginning Monday noon and continuing for two weeks the supervisors will sit as a board of equalization to hear complaints on assessments. As in previous years, few requests for changes are anticipated.

PAYMENTS ON BONDS DUE

Four Orange county improvement districts on which bonds should have been retired by January, 1935, remain unclosed because of delinquencies in bond assessments, County Treasurer Terry Stephenson revealed today.

Yesterday marked the closing of the semi-annual payment period on bonds in 17 special districts. Under a moratorium effective until February, 1937, property encumbered by the bonds cannot be foreclosed if interest payments are maintained, even though principal payments are defaulted.

Treasurer Stephenson also revealed that 448 pieces of property, nearly all in the Dana Point section, have been foreclosed through the courts here in the past year, and that 65 parcels have been sold by advertisement through his office in the same period.

Most of the sales, however, were to the property owners, who have acquired the bonds which obligate their land. Foreclosure in that case clears title to the land without causing the owner to forfeit.

Districts on which bonds remain unpaid are county improvement district No. 1, a street improvement district centering around St. Gertrude place, now a portion of the city of Santa Ana; Garden Grove No. 1 sanitary district, and Placentia sanitary districts No. 1 and No. 2.

County Employees Ask Pay Boost

Constable Jesse Elliott, president of the Orange County Employees association, will place before the board of supervisors next Tuesday a petition asking a 15 per cent salary restoration for appointive employees of the county.

Elliott said the increase proposed would return a cut made two years ago. The petition, he said, has been signed by most of the appointive officers. Elective officers would not be affected.

The Barrows bid was $5439. The company will start work on the project next Monday.

INSURING OF WIVES TOLD AT TRIAL

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—C. A. Pries, an insurance man, testified today that Robert S. James, former Birmingham, Ala., barber, took out $5000 insurance on his own life at the same time he took out a similar policy on the life of his fifth wife, Winona Wallace James.

Pries declared that James then dropped his policy in three months, while the policy of his wife remained in force until she drowned.

Deputy District Attorney Eugene Williams charges that James, on trial on a charge of murdering his seventh wife, used a ruse in getting Mrs. Winona James to insure herself for him by making her think he also was paying premiums on insurance to her.

The seventh wife, Mary James, also was drowned, being found in a fishpond at the couple's La Crescenta home. The state alleges she was forced to submit to rat-snake bites, and that failing, to have been drowned in a bathtub and her body removed to the fishpond to make it appear accidental.

The fifth wife was found drowned in a bathtub in Manitou, Colo., four years ago, the case being reported accidental. The state is attempting to show the strange parallel between the deaths of the two women, claiming both were victims of a plot by James to gain their insurance money.

TEXAN FIRES SIX SHOTS INTO MAN

Tells Police He Found Wife in a Bedroom With Victim

SANTA MONICA, (AP)—A shooting that climaxed a night of drinking brought Jimmy Henderson, 32, Alpine, Tex., cattlemen into the hands of police today and sent Leroy Patton, 50, to a hospital, gravely wounded.

Chief of Detectives Elmer Lingo said Henderson told him he shot Patton six times because he saw Patton take Mrs. Henderson in his arms.

Henderson was held on suspicion of attack with a deadly weapon. Patton, wounded in the arm, neck and chest, is in a critical condition.

Found in Bedroom

Lingo said Henderson told him that he, his wife, Leona, and Patton had drinks in various beach beer parlors and that while he sat talking to an acquaintance Patton and his wife left the room. A half hour later Henderson followed them, he said, and found them in a bedroom.

"She was saying, 'don't hurt me,' and she was crying and so I went around the front way and let myself in the front room and got my six shooter," Lingo quoted Henderson as saying.

"Now, I am just a little fellow weighing 110 pounds and I knew Pat could lick me if it came to a fight, so I took my gun and went into the bedroom."

"I told Pat, 'you're a fine fellow to take advantage of a friend's wife.'"

"He didn't say anything, so I emptied my gun into him."

"He started running and I ran after him and out in the yard he fell. I called the landlord and he didn't answer, but the people upstairs did and called police."

Mrs. Henderson was held as a material witness. Lingo said Henderson turned over to him a .38-caliber pistol with empty shells in all its chambers.

Mr. and Mrs. Henderson came here two days ago for a visit. Patton is the proprietor of a beer parlor.

WPA Men Can Hold Political Jobs Without Salaries

New WPA regulations ordering the release of all workers holding or campaigning for public office will not affect those on Orange county WPA who either hold public office or seek it, as long as there is no salary attached to the political job held or sought.

Mayor Dan Mulholland of San Clemente, who is WPA manager; City Councilman Henry Fate of San Clemente, who is a warehouse foreman, and C. Harold Dale, candidate for a county Democratic central committee job, who is head of the local compensation division of WPA, all will retain their government jobs.

The WPA regulation qualifies the dismissal order with the phrase, "to which a salary is attached." None of the foregoing jobs is remunerative.

Pair Buy Marriage License With 175 Pennies, 5 Nickels

By RUTH JENKINS

Two hundred lucky pennies for a marriage license.

Anytime there should have been 200, County Clerk J. M. Backs reminded today. He recalled the case of Vernon Schultz and Miss Laura Schroder.

"One, two, three, four—" thus the countless coppers were counted when the happy couple came to the local Gretna Green. They blushed and smiled as they anticipated the good fortune their lucky pennies were to bring to their wedding life.

On and on the counting went. The smiles continued, too.

Cloudy Weather
"One hundred seventy-four, one hundred seventy-four,"

"Why, there are only 175," gasped the bride-to-be. "There should be 200!" The smiles went behind clouds.

The bridegroom stared and moistened his lips nervously while the bride gazed red in embarrassment. The 200 lucky pennies were to have brought good fortune to the pair. But there were only 175.

And there was only one thing to do. Reluctantly the young man pulled from his pocket five nickels. He stacked them beside the coppers. The couple got their license—and Backs got the pennies. He wished them luck.

A Sailor's Life
This incident is typical of many in the life of the county clerk. No so long ago a sailor was much perturbed because he did not own a license. An hour later he showed up with the required sum. No questions were asked. No one ever found out whether the sailor hit a jackpot or a punchboard or just where the navy boat did find his good luck.

One time a mother accompanied her boy, 25, and his fiancée, 42, to the license office, protesting that her boy didn't know what he was doing. She repeated her charge during the marriage ceremony by Judge J. G. Mitchell, who overruled her objection. The married couple departed with Mother, who could be seen all the way down the front walk, as she turned back and forth from son to daughter-in-law, slapping their faces.

Parting of the Ways
At almost any hour anxious "intending" couples can be seen trekking back and forth from the door of the license bureau to a drinking fountain in the hall, trying to get over attacks of nervousness before applying to be married.

Backs recalled a spectacular ending to a wedding which occurred some time ago. After the rites had been solemnized, the wife turned to her husband.

"Well, I guess you're satisfied," she said, and out she blew. Her late bridegroom walked out in the opposite direction.

"Well," commented Backs, "it's their own business."

Communist McLauchlan Is Due to Lose Job Again

By BOB GUILD

Pity Charles McLauchlan, the on-again, off-again Communist candidate for congress.

Charles has had his ups and downs, but the whirly-gig has gone into high gear this week, and Charles is becoming bewildered.

Fired, reinstated, arrested, released, now he's fired again, or will be soon.

Charles, who is a chorus-boy on the Orange county WPA music project, is also an active Communist.

His Troubles Begin
His troubles started when he filed for congress. Director Leon Eckles of the music project immediately fired him for "undue political activity."

The congressional candidate then did a little Zionchecking in an orange grove, his purpose being to persuade some pickers to go on strike, and was clapped in jail.

Along came the attorney for the International Labor Defense and posted $100 bail for his release.

Then came an order from Los Angeles headquarters of the federal music project to put him back to work, because he "was doing his political campaigning on his own time."

Now a New Order
Charles went back to high kicking in the chorus, and made an appearance in a beach town show.

Today orders for the third work relief program came through.

One of the provisions read: "Appropriations shall not be used to pay the salary or expenses of any person who is a candidate for any state, district, county or municipal office to which a salary is attached."

While no Communist congressmen have yet been elected, one might be, and there certainly would be a salary attached.

And it looks like on-again Charles is off-again, at least for now.

FEDERAL AID TO SCHOOLS SOUGHT

PORTLAND, Ore., (AP)—The gospel of academic freedom and federal aid for schools was carried nationwide today as thousands of teachers started homeward at the conclusion of the 74th annual convention of the National Education Association.

Delegates chose Orville C. Pratt, school superintendent of Spokane, Wash., to represent the 200,000 members as president. He won in a close race with William H. Holmes, Mount Vernon, N. Y. Pratt succeeds Miss Agnes Samuelson, superintendent of public instruction in Iowa, who becomes first vice president.

A political debate at which Paul V. McNutt, Democrat, governor of Indiana; Burton L. French, Republican, Miami University, and Norman Thomas, Socialist, New York City, assailed rival beliefs, concluded the general sessions last night.

A resolutions committee report, as adopted, asked support for the congressional measure providing for $100,000,000 to $300,000,000 a year in federal aid for schools.

FRANCE ASKS NEW PEACE PACT

GENEVA, (AP)—France called today for a reinforced system of regional pacts, supervised by the League of Nations, to guarantee world peace by military force.

Yvon Delbos, French foreign minister, urged before the assembly of the league a speedy reformation of the international peace body by which aggressors would suffer swift armed punishment.

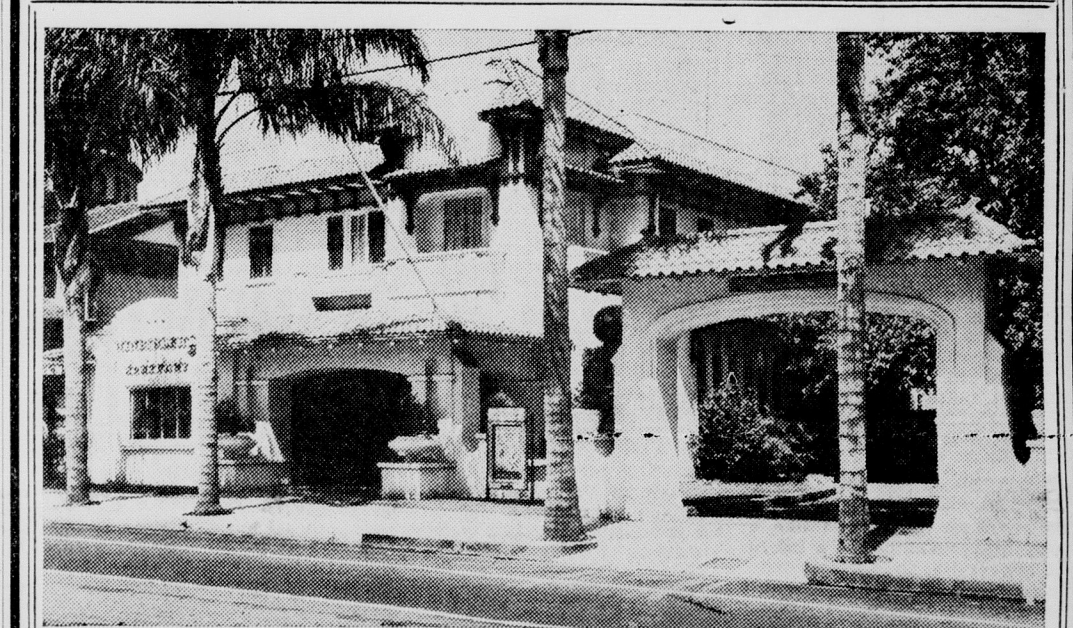

He addressed a group of statesmen whose nerves were on edge after the firing of two shots in the assembly hall. A Czech newspaperman, seated in a gallery adjoining the delegates' benches, had shot himself. The wounded man was removed to a hospital before the session continued.

Delbos announced France planned to establish new treaties and to strengthen existing pacts.

He advocated elimination from the league covenant of the requirement in article XI that a unanimous vote of the council is necessary on measures to safeguard peace. However, he said, the fundamentals of the covenant should not be changed.

The French foreign minister asserted a system of regional pacts under league supervision would establish a close link between economic and military sanctions and would strengthen provisions of the punitive article XVI to make automatic military action against an aggressor certain.

Erik Rhodes and Pinky Tomlin, film actors, were University of Oklahoma students at the same time. But they never met until they came to Hollywood.

Brick Dust

Here and There With The Journal's
Rambling County Editor
By T. N. (BRICK) GAINES

By BOB GUILD
(Batting for Gaines)

The subject for this column today is Brick Gaines and a thing called a Brook Trouticus Giganticus.

Brick, as you know, is the red-headed mentor of this daily strip. He has been fishing in the high Sierras, and today he blew into the office with a yarn and a promise.

He promised to come back and take his job off our hands Monday, and his yarn was about the Brook Trouticus Giganticus.

"Twas like this," said Gaines. "You remember some time ago we ran a picture of that monstrous rabbitus giganticus that Jim Farquhar invented over at Huntington Beach?"

"I didn't believe Jim. In fact I went so far as to scoff at him and poke scientific jibes at him. I accused him of spoofing."

"Well, sir, Ma Gaines and Mike and I got up to Hardy's General Store in Coleville corner the other day. The lake looked right, but Ma Gaines figured we ought to put in the evening straightening out our stuff, and Mike could hardly wait for a mug of beer. So there was no fishing that night, and I hardly slept a wink."

"The next morning," said Gaines, "I got up practically before breakfast, and unlimbered my rod. I strung her with some number 9 tapered line, added a half-pound test green leader and a number 16 hook. And I climbed into a rowboat and set out, with hardly a ripple, Mike and Ma Gaines waving me farewell."

"After 40 minutes of hard rowing I came to a narrow little inlet, let her drift and dropped me a perfect cast behind an old green log."

"Nothing happened. So I reeled in, took a fresh worm out of the can and dropped another cast in the same place. Nothing happened, but a wave or something stirred that green log a little and it rolled over, fouling my line."

"After maybe 15 minutes of good husky activity I got the line untangled, but that darn log kept pitching and a-plunging till I thought it was blowing up a good-sized storm."

"This time I took a good aim and went for a ripple just beyond the log. My foot slipped. My trusty number 16 dropped right spang on top of the big green log, and boys, all hades busted loose!"

"That darn log," said Gaines, "just rared up and took the bit in his teeth and started out down the lake."

"Yips!" says I. "I've hooked her!"

"And away we went boiling over the lake. 'Oh boy,' says I, 'wait till Jim Farquhar sees the evidence of this! I've hooked probably the only trouticus giganticus left!'"

"Then the line busted, and I let out a really gigantic!"

"Away went the trouticus in one direction, and away went Gaines in the other. I never would have caught the fool thing if he hadn't looked back to see what had happened to me and run spang into the bank."

"This knocked him out, and I jumped out and tied him to a tree, and went for help. So help me!"

That was Brick's yarn. As for the proof of the pudding, he promised to bring the picture with him Monday, and so help us, Jim Farquhar, we're going to run that picture and make your rabbiticus look sillius.

Tomorrow I am going to spend my last day as a county editor, writing something every good county editor should do. I am going to the bathing beauty parade, etc., down at Huntington Beach, eat a hot dog, pitch a horseshoe, get sunburned and whoop it up.

The chamber of commerce and city officials have gotten together and promised the county the biggest thing in the way of celebration it has ever seen.

Like Brick's trouticus, the proof of the pudding is in the eating, so we're off for the city of old wells to see for our editorial selves.

LeRoy Lyon, county supervisor from Anaheim, was in just now with a picture to adorn this page. Running for supervisor, says he, and I thought maybe you'd . . .

Sure we would, said we. Well, he said, you know what to say about me better than I do.

We're not saying anything. Roy's record stands for itself. He's always done right well at what he's started. In addition to his active participation in the governmental life of the county he's a successful rancher, and a prominent member of the growers' advisory council, that group which regulates the administration of the state citrus prorate. Three man-sized jobs, done well.

Anyway, we're running the picture.

ORANGE COUNTY BEACHES READY FOR RECORD CROWDS

15,000 ARE EXPECTED AT H.B.

Laguna, Newport Make Arrangements For Celebrations

The vanguard of the thousands of inland visitors who will throng the Orange county beaches over the week-end of the Fourth began pouring into beach cities today.

Beach business men and retailers announced that their plans for reception of the crowds were complete. Apartment owners and realtors began taking in their signs today, as indications pointed to the largest holiday crowd in years.

Events for the week-end were featured by the three-day patriotic celebration which opened at noon today at Huntington Beach, and was to get in full swing tonight at 9:30 with the coronation ball at which Queen Lucille McNeil will be crowned.

Tomorrow will be a busy day at Huntington Beach, opening with an ocean distance swim at 10 a. m., and continuing without letup until late at night. A crowd of 15,000 is expected.

"Old-Timers" from all over the state will partake of a feast at the T. B. Talbert home at noon. The Holy Sugar tramps' picnic will be held at the W. J. Bristol home, and the Spanish War veterans' picnic will be held on the west beach. A gigantic parade is scheduled for the afternoon, and affairs will include a rodeo, ball game, horse show, and fireworks display at night.

The Laguna Beach American Legion has laid plans for one of the most colorful Fourth of July celebrations in the city's history. Comm. Gene Douglas is general chairman in charge of arrangements.

The streets will be decorated with flags, and tomorrow night a one-hour display of fireworks will be displayed from Heister park on the bluffs above the city. Douglas announced today that his committee, consisting of W. C. Pettit, Harold Reed, Nelson Homewood and Gaylord Fanning, has made special arrangements to handle the huge crowd that is expected over the holiday.

Similar arrangements are being made at Newport-Balboa, where the U. S. S. Alden will visit, and where the Legion has made arrangements for a huge pyrotechnic display tomorrow night.

All cities from San Clemente to Seal Beach have put on holiday attire in readiness for the Glorious Fourth, and 50,000 week-end visitors.

The man, Charles McKinyon, a negro, was found wandering along the outskirts of Anaheim dressed in a long white suit of underwear. In the city jail all he could say was that he left his trousers in Riverside, and couldn't understand why he wasn't in Beverly Hills.

He was told to find his pants, and go no more a'wandering in his underwear.

It's more fun to bring 'em back alive, the two hunters said. The cat was treed by five fox hounds belonging to the men. After the animal was treed Strickland took a long pipe, fashioned a wire on it, and made a loop of the end.

He then climbed the tree, slipped the loop over the cat's head and lowered it to Payton. The cat immediately attacked several of the dogs, but after a battle they subdued it and brought it in alive. Strickland is building a pen for it at his home, 135 Thompson avenue.

Blames Liquor For Lawbreaking

ORANGE.—In making public his report for the fiscal year 1935-36, which closed June 30, Judge A. W. Swayze of the Orange justice court, deplored the increase in intoxication and drunk driving, as shown by his records.

Judge Swayze declared that ease in securing liquor by automobile drivers is one of the chief causes of the tremendous increase in cases. These cases are on the increase in every court, the judge stated, and liquor accounts for most of the criminal cases which appear before him, he added.

A total of 503 criminal cases, 471 civil cases, and 15 juvenile cases were tried before him in the past 12 months. The judge also tried 300 city court cases from July 1, 1935, to May 7, 1936, when he resigned from the city position.

GAS MENACES L.B. SEWER PLANT

LAGUNA BEACH.—Members of the city council today were considering ways and means for protecting the new $45,000 sewage plant, located at the mouth of Laguna canyon, which, according to City Engineer Arthur J. Stead, is facing deterioration at an alarming rate, due primarily to the action of hydro sulphide gas.

Insufficient sewage, it was explained, preventing the plant from functioning in a proper manner, has contributed in a large measure to the present situation, which, unless remedied, may represent a considerable loss to the taxpayers.

Advised of the danger threatening the new sewage treatment plant, members of the council made a minute inspection of it this week. Within the next few days they will go to Fullerton to inspect an oxidizing machine in use there which has entirely eradicated, according to the city engineer, the odors and deterioration which constituted a problem in that city.

Rubinoff Invents 'Pocket' Violin

Rubinoff, famous radio maestro, who is heard on KVOE in "Musical Moments" on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, at 7 p. m., practices three hours every day. It is not always convenient to carry with him his $100,000 Stradivarius and he invented a collapsible violin. The instrument is practical in every sense, but sound is muted so that Rubinoff may practice wherever he may be. He carries the smaller instrument to parties and enjoys playing it for guests. Left: Rubinoff showing his "pocket" violin and congratulating Frank H. Callier, Hollywood violin maker, who fashioned the instrument from Rubinoff's design. In the inset, a close-up showing how the violin fits into his pocket.

'HEELS' KICK PLANE HIGH INTO AIR

DAYTON, Ohio, (AP)—"Flying heels" for airplanes in the stratosphere have been announced at the material division of the U. S. Army Air Corps at Wright field. The "heels" use the kick in the engine exhausts through a supercharger to drive planes in the stratosphere. They enable U. S. army planes to outperform any others in the world at high altitudes.

Driven By Exhaust

This supercharger is a small ferris wheel, driven on the turbine principle, by jets of exhaust gas. It attains the almost incredible speed of 40,000 revolutions a minute under the impact of exhaust gases striking tiny vanes. At that velocity the wheel is a centrifugal air pump, which compresses air for the engine carburetor. The compressed air contains more oxygen than the rarified atmosphere of the stratosphere, which is insufficient for good engine combustion.

In the stratosphere this supercharger compresses the air to sea level density. It is light in weight and runs on power otherwise wasted. It is the most efficient device yet invented to gather oxygen from the thin air of the stratosphere. The model under development at the material division was invented by the General Electric company and the material division.

"Heels" Used High Up
The old type supercharger is an air compressor geared to the engine. Gears do not run fast enough for the speeds needed for gathering enough oxygen at exceedingly high altitudes. The new "heels" are used mainly above the 20,000-foot level.

With their aid army planes have risen at record-breaking speeds to altitudes of 30,000 feet. This is apparently far under the ceiling of the flying heels. The test pilots made these ascents in open cockpit planes, unequipped with oxygen apparatus to enable the men to stand more than 20,000 feet.

Odds Against King Marrying Are Tightened

LONDON. (AP)—A rush of insurance business suddenly increased the odds against King Edward marrying prior to his coronation next May. The odds dropped to 5 to 1 after hovering around 10 to 1 for several weeks. Brokers said that since private speculation had been ruled out by the reverberations of the April "budget leak," they were accepting orders for insurance only from commercial interests likely to lose if a consort accompanies the king to Westminster on May 12, 1937.

Sept. 4 Is Death Date for Slayer

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—Found sane by a jury, Albert Walter, jr., was sentenced yesterday to be hanged at San Quentin prison Sept. 4 for the silk-stocking strangling of Miss Blanche Cousins of Idaho Falls, Idaho.

BRIGHT MOMENTS

Gen. Blucher, the famous Prussian military leader, was to be offered the Order of the Holy Ghost by Louis XVIII. The duke of Wellington tried to tell him that he must accept, but Blucher, in his intense hatred for the French, blurted out: "If I accept it, I will hang the order on my back." "And if you do," observed Wellington, "you will show how much you value it by hanging it where the enemy will never hit it."

Drawn by an Indian legend of huge tracks left in rock by "the biggest bear that ever lived," Father Bernard R. Hubbard, the "glacier priest" of Santa Clara University, sailed from Seattle on his tenth Alaska expedition. Father Hubbard is pictured with Magook, his lead dog, just before sailing. ## Ambush Fights of Arabs and Jews Smack of Ethiopia

(This is the third of four stories by Edward J. Neil, of the Associated Press foreign staff, about the trouble in the Holy Land.—Editor.)

By EDWARD J. NEIL

(Copyright, 1936, by Associated Press)
JERUSALEM, June 21. — (By Airmail and Boat to New York)—Palestine and Ethiopia—one the cradle of Christianity, the other Africa's last savage empire—are national brothers under the skin.

Ethiopia is off the front pages as a war story, but the black remnants of Haile Selassie's empire are sniping still at the fringes of Mussolini's massive army, a shot here and there, the swift and flashing arc of a curved sword, a few trucks ambushed, drivers killed, supplies looted, the kind of war which will go on for years.

Here in the Holy Land the old struggle of the Jew and Arab is burning anew. Here, too, the symptoms are the same: The snapping of scattered rifles from behind the rocks, the trees, and the walls which the world knows as Palestine.

They call the situation a "general strike" of Arabs, and Britain has mustered some 10,000 soldiers, many airplanes and tanks to bolster the 2000 police on duty in Jerusalem. But to eyes which have been watching Italians fight Ethiopians and vice versa for eight months, it looks strangely like the scene in East Africa.

Determined as never before in the rebellions of 1929 and 1933, the Arabs have settled down to what is, apparently, a last ditch struggle for the freedom they claim Great Britain promised them as a reward for revolt against the Turks, during the Levantine phase of the World war.

The battle lines draw tighter around the triangle which reaches through the olive groves, the hills, the valleys, the holy places of times Biblical.

It takes in the trenches, now sometimes manned in the night by Arabs, where the Turks made their last stand against General Allenby's British.

It isn't war yet. But tomorrow anything may happen. (Tomorrow: El Mufti commands.)

Posse Captures Escaped Convicts

GROESBECK, Tex. (AP)—Two convicts who killed a prison guard and escaped on a horse and a mule were back in custody today after their capture in a stalled motor car.

The two retrieved prison farm fugitives, Luke Trammel and Forrest Gibson, were asleep in their stolen machine near here last night when a posse surrounded them. Both surrendered without resistance, although each had a pistol in his hand.

Their capture ended a two weeks' man hunt by Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico officers.

F.D.R. OPENS PARK FOR VIRGINIA

BIG MEADOWS, Va., (AP)—Describing the Shenandoah National park as part of a program of the "joint husbandry of our human resources and our natural resources," President Roosevelt today dedicated the 180,000-acre tract amid the peaks of the Blue Ridge.

From a stand in a natural amphitheater 3500 feet above sea level, the chief executive reviewed the work of the Civilian Conservation Corps in developing the huge tract and declared: "In by-gone years we have seen the terrible tragedy of our age—the tragedy of waste. Waste of our people, waste of our land. It was neither the will nor the destiny of our nation that this waste of human and material resources should continue. That was the compelling reason that led us to put our idle people to the task of ending the waste of our land."

From Secretary Ickes came an expression of hope that federal money would be provided for establishing national parks in the East comparable to those in the West.

After a friendly reference to former President Herbert Hoover for adding his Rapidan camp to the Shenandoah park acreage, Ickes recalled that the federal policy of requiring donations of almost all the land for new national parks made it especially difficult to establish them in the East.

Mrs. Hewitt Goes Into Seclusion

JERSEY CITY, N. J. (AP)—Mrs. Maryon Cooper Hewitt, under $3500 bail on charges of being a fugitive and attempting suicide, went into seclusion today, after an unexpected departure from Medical Center hospital.

Mrs. Hewitt, who has been accused of mayhem in California in connection with an alleged sterilization operation on her leftist daughter, Ann Cooper Hewitt, left the hospital by automobile last night after she was discharged as a patient, Supt. John Harnett said.

Bob Burns of Van Buren, Ark., is a member of the 1935 Van Buren high school graduating class. The actor flunked out shortly before the war, but the school board gave him a diploma last year anyway.

YOU CANNOT COOK NATURAL JUICES INTO THE FOODS YOU PREPARE

Your appetite is a thing to please! So, at the grocers you choose your vegetables for their freshness, your meats for juiciness, your fruits for their lusciousness.

Disappointment never visits the table of the housewife when these same foods have been preserved before cooking in an air-conditioned Ice refrigerator. Why?—because their natural juices, so vital to health, so necessary to taste, are retained.

Remember you cannot cook natural juices into the foods you prepare; discouraged,—well you shouldn't be, for there is ONE way to retain these healthful, tasty juices—science's new contribution to the housewife—the air-conditioned ICE refrigerator.

It's your ICE Service Man's business to know the facts of ice refrigeration. Let him tell you how to bring to your table all the luscious freshness that nature intended you to enjoy in the foods you prepare.

He will tell you of the convenient way in which you may arrange to try the air-conditioned Ice refrigerator in your own home and of these easy terms by which you may purchase it, at as much as $150.00 under what you would expect to pay. Plan to ask him today; or call your local ice company.

Cabaret Hostess Sought in Murder

CHICAGO. (AP)—A brunette cabaret hostess was sought today by detectives investigating the "vengeance slaying" of a platinum blond night club songstress.

The object of the wide search was Mrs. Ruth Freed, 28, Captain Andrew Barry ordered the hunt for her after he said she had been identified from a photograph as the slender woman who left a near north side hotel yesterday shortly after Miss Audrey Vallette, 31, had been shot to death in her luxurious apartment.

The captain said he had learned from a show girl friend of the victim that she had been friendly with Mrs. Freed's husband, Edward, manager of a gay resort. The crime, he added, was plainly one of vengeance.

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT: From Hyde Park to the White House

The rebuff which the Democrats had met when President Wilson appealed for a Democratic congress in the 1918 elections had shaken the party, but the nominating convention in San Francisco in 1920 found Franklin D. Roosevelt fighting for selection of man to head the ticket who would carry on President Wilson's ideals. James M. Cox of Ohio was named, and Roosevelt was nominated for vice-president. He is shown here with Cox, right.

After defeat in the elections of 1920, Roosevelt returned to private life, assumed other interests, among them the Boy Scouts, with a group of whom he is here shown. In August, 1921, during a short vacation at Campobello, New Brunswick, Roosevelt finished a day of hiking with a dip in the icy waters of the Bay of Fundy. Two days later, specialists from Bar Harbor and Boston, concurred in a dread diagnosis... he was stricken with infantile paralysis.

The years following Roosevelt's grave illness are a record of his long struggle to overcome effects of the disease. Again active in business in 1924 but on crutches, he went to Warm Springs, Ga., a rundown summer resort, in the waters of which he swam and discovered then greatly beneficial to his paralysis. His interest in Warm Springs and his many visits started it on its way to the famous health resort and medical center it now is.

By 1924, Roosevelt also had returned to politics and he created something of a sensation when he made his way to the Democratic national convention platform in Madison Square Garden placed in nomination the name of Alfred E. Smith. Roosevelt borrowed a name from the poet Wordsworth and called Smith the "Happy Warrior."

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Postmaster General James A. Farley said after a three hour conference yesterday at the White House with President Roosevelt and other Democratic chieftains that his possible resignation from the cabinet was not discussed. ### SPLIT-UP IN RANKS OF FARMERS' GROUP

ST. PAUL. (AP)—Five state Farmers Holiday association presidents yesterday disregarded the group's national convention, and named their own set of officers empowered to call a national convention "within 60 days." The five signed a statement asserting the "purpose" of the convention just closed "did not appear to be representative of the national body, and the Minnesota procedure" not according to the constitution. Walter Groth, named secretary-treasurer of the new slate, headed by Congressman Usher L. Burdick as president, amplified this statement with a charge "Communists took complete control of the meeting."

DROUGHT TO SLAP F. D. R. Georgia Farm Crop Small

WARM SPRINGS, Ga. (AP)—Franklin Delano Roosevelt, Georgia farmer, stands to lose "a lot of money" this year because of the drought plague—the worst in this section in years.

Rain has not drenched the President's farm on Pine mountain since Mr. Roosevelt paused here April 8 on his return to Washington from a vacation fishing trip off the Florida coast.

"It's bad on the farm," said Otis Moore, superintendent of the President's estate here, pointing to the dried fields and withering knee-high corn that should be waving over one's head at this time of year.

"I don't know how it will turn out. The way it looks now we'll be lucky to make one-fifth of a crop. We're going to lose a lot of money."

Pastures for the herd of 125 cattle are browned and lifeless. The sun has stunted the growth of 50 acres of corn—the only crop planted before the dry weather forced a halt.

Because she misstated her age to a marriage license clerk here in 1933, Mrs. Bessie Thomas, 19, Los Angeles, yesterday was granted an annulment of her marriage to Jack E. Thomas by Superior Judge Craig in Los Angeles superior court.

When she married Thomas here April 18, 1933, she did so without the consent of her parents and by swearing she was 18 years of age, whereas she was only 16, Mrs. Thomas testified. Her older sister, Miss Wilma E. Moss, filed the annulment petition for her.

Rush of Pre-Nuptial Parties Continues Throughout Week Before Wedding

Ushers Give Dance for Pair

Supper Will Follow Rehearsal Next Wednesday

Rehearsal, bridal party supper and open house will mark the final week before the wedding of Miss Harriet Gruettner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene J. Gruettner of 905 Oak Street, Santa Ana, and Remington Mills, of San Pedro, who are to be married Saturday afternoon, July 11, at 5 o'clock at the Church of Our Saviour in San Gabriel.

The rehearsal for the wedding has been set for next Wednesday evening at the San Gabriel church and will be the occasion for a supper party to follow at the Huntington hotel in San Marino. Participants in this final pre-nuptial event will be the principals in the wedding party, their husbands and wives, and Mrs. Mills' sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Stevens of San Marino.

Members of the bridal party are the bride's sister, Mrs. Stephen Hinchliffe of South Pasadena, who will be matron of honor; her brother, J. Gruettner of the same city, best man, and Harry Lawson, Jr., of Beverly Hills, Winston Fuller of Whittier, Gail Stockton of San Bernardino, Albert Blatz of Santa Monica, Albert Vignola of Beverly Hills, and George Reeves of Long Beach, the six ushers.

Wednesday evening, at the Coconut Grove in Los Angeles, the six who will usher at the wedding entertained at a formal dinner dance honoring Miss Gruettner and Mr. Mills.

Miss Gruettner's attractive evening frock of flower print crepe was lovely with the corsage of gardenias presented to her by her hosts, who also had one for each of the feminine members of their party.

Dancing until a late hour, the group then went over to the Brown Derby for a light supper.

In the party were Mr. and Mrs. Lawson, Mr. and Mrs. Fuller, Mr. and Mrs. Stockton, Miss Connie Buchan of Santa Monica, Miss Carabelle Daniels of Whittier, Miss Evelyn Wells of Long Beach, the Messrs. Blatz, Vignola, and Reeves, and the two honored guests.

Many of the group are Phi Kappa Psi fraternity brothers of Mr. Mills from the University of Southern California, and Pi Beta Phi sorority sisters of Miss Gruettner from the same campus.

This evening, Mr. Mills and Miss Gruettner are joining a group of friends in a bon voyage courtesy for Mrs. Robert Jahns of San Marino, going down to the dock at San Pedro to see her off for Honolulu on the S. S. Lurline. Others in the party will be Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Conner and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Smith, Jr., all of Santa Ana. After the boat sails, they plan to go to the Coast club for a light supper.

NEWPORT BEACH RESIDENTS ON WAY TO CANADA

Among the many interesting vacation journeys planned by Orange county residents this summer is one to Victoria, B. C., partly by automobile and partly by boat, on which Mrs. J. Dick Wilson and son, Andrew Wilson of 1120 West Ocean Front, Newport Beach, left this week.

Mapping out a four-week itinerary, the two planned to drive up the Redwood highway, with a stop at the Monterey peninsula, thence up through Portland, Seattle, and into the northern end of Vancouver Island. Coming down to Victoria, where they will spend several days, they will take the boat for the delightful ocean trip back home.

The Wilsons are former residents of Santa Ana and Mrs. Wilson is a sister of Mrs. O. L. Halsell of 2216 North Broadway.

GIRL SCOUTS WILL AID COUNCIL, GO CAMPING

Abandoning their original plans to hold day camps for girls at Irvine park, Santa Ana Girl Scouts will cooperate with co-ordinating council members in charge of the outing at Camp Rokili for under-privileged local children.

Registration for Girl Scout camp in the San Bernardino mountains will begin Aug. 6, Mrs. Paul Bailey announced today. Registration may be made with Mrs. E. T. McFadden, 2121 Greenleaf street, with Mrs. R. R. Russell, 1325 South Flower street, or with leaders of the troops.

CONVERTIBLE WRAPS FOR MILADY

Sheer cherry red organza barred in velvet checks of the same hue makes this cool evening wrap for summer festivities. It is designed with a scarf neckline and three-quarter length puffed sleeves. Ruby and diamond ear clips and bracelet recall its vivid color. Note the new summer coiffure rolled softly back from the face without a single set marcel wave.

NEW LIDO ISLE RESIDENTS HONORED HERE

Four former Seattle residents now residing in Orange county were among those honored at a recent delightful dinner party given by Mr. and Mrs. E. Wagner at their home at 530 South Birch street.

Those sharing the honors at the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. M. Abrams of Lido Isle and their daughter, Mrs. Ed Huletz of Santa Ana, all recently of Seattle; and also Mrs. Nell Guerin of San Francisco, house guest of Mrs. Harold Brown, and Mrs. Martha Mulks of Berkeley, visiting at the Tom Flesher home. Mr. Huletz was included in the invitation but was called at the last moment to Seattle on business.

Others finding places at the prettily appointed table were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brown, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Featherly, Mr. and Mrs. George Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Flesher, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Van Wyk, and the host and hostess.

Clever quips and fortunes were written on the fold-over place-cards which added to the informality of the dinner hour. For her centerpiece, the hostess had arranged a low, oval bowl of single asters, pale blue delphinium, baby breath and asparagus fern, creating a color motif of pastel tones with which the other appointments harmonized.

O. E. S. PICNIC IS HELD IN PARK

Kappa Delta Phi sorority members had a jolly pot-luck supper Tuesday evening at the Silverado cabin of Miss JoAnne Schott.

Fifteen members and guests were present to enjoy the supper and the social time which followed. Mrs. Charles Woodville, president of the sorority, is in the east, visiting in Washington, D. C., and New York, following the national convention of Kappa Delta Phi held in Cincinnati, O., which she attended as delegate from the local chapter. During the sessions, she was elected to the national committee on appeals.

She plans to come west by the Canadian Pacific route, stopping at Lake Louise, and taking the steamer from Seattle to California. Long Beach was named the meeting place for the convention in 1937, according to word received in acceptance of an invitation from the California beach city.

Two other members of the Santa Ana chapter, Miss Louise Peele and Marcene Cook, attended the convention sessions while on their vacation, making the journey by bus.

Another member, Miss Katherine Conway, has recently secured a government position in Washington, D. C., it was announced at the meeting.

W. R. C. PIONEERS HOLD JULY LUNCHEON

Added pleasure was given to meeting of the Pioneer club of Sedgwick W. R. C. No. 17 by the fact that hostess for the day, Mrs. Fanny Cunningham, had recently recovered from a serious illness.

She entertained fellow members of the club at her home, 205 North Flower street. Scarlet fuchsias, roses and carnations made fragrant centers of color in each room. Mrs. Emma P. Mosbaugh conducted a brief business meeting before a program of readings and the Ogdens driving to San Diego.

Mrs. Engle, the hostess served refreshments. Mrs. Rosa Diers told of her visit to Hemet; Mrs. Cassie Ferguson read, "The Old Guard Grows Thin"; Mrs. Margaret Culver, "Flag of Victory"; Mrs. Belle McConnell, "To a Pessimist"; and Mrs. Mosbaugh, "Things That Count."

Annual August luncheon of the group will be held under Mrs. Martha Ritchey's famed mulberry tree.

PASADENA CLUB GATHERS HERE

A pretty party of the week was the luncheon and informal afternoon at which Mrs. Marguerite West Hill entertained in her attractive home in El Patio Real, 1228 North Broadway, honoring members of a Pasadena bridge club to which she belonged when she lived in that city.

After luncheon, which was served with bright summer flower appointments, the group spent the afternoon visiting and reminiscing. Enjoying the get-together were Mrs. Arthur Brown, Mrs. Porter Parmele, Mrs. Harry Hammond, Mrs. Carter Wood, Mrs. Herman Nickerson, all of Pasadena, and Mrs. Paul Krause of Pomona, formerly of Pasadena.

DE GLADE DAMER GROUP HONORS MEMBER

A surprise planned by De Glade Damer club members Wednesday proved a boomerang when the one of their number they had planned to surprise surprised them by not being able to be present.

The group had arranged a shower of gift handkerchiefs for Mrs. Thomas Huffman of 725 South Sycamore, planning to present them to her at their club meeting that afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ray Graham, 1109 West Pine street.

When illness prevented the honored guest from attending, the members spent the afternoon informally chatting and sewing and later took the gifts over to Mrs. Huffman at her home.

The shower was a farewell courtesy for Mrs. Huffman, before her departure next Monday with her two children, Thomas, Jr., and Mary Jane, for a visit in Kansas and Missouri.

Wednesday's meeting came to a delightful conclusion with a dessert course of lovely appointments served by the hostesses in her dining room, which like the other rooms of the home, was bright with roses.

Enjoying the afternoon were the Mesdames Otto Hawley, Richard Grimes, Charles Kye, Herbert Thwaite, Margaret Golden, Henry McComb, and the hostess, club members, and Mrs. Misener of Los Angeles, guest of Mrs. McComb, and Mrs. Brown, daughter of the hostess.

Mary Stoddard Husband at 'Wit's End' Advised by Young Married Couples to Pack and Leave

By MARY STODDARD

"Pack your clothes and those of your daughter, and move out!" That's straight-from-the-shoulder advice to the husband who wrote recently, describing the sordid details of his life with his ultra-Bohemian wife. A group of married couples, who consider themselves as modern as any in Santa Ana, apply the ax to this wayward young wife in the following letter:

BETROTHAL REVEALED BY FIRECRACKERS

Guests invited to hear the news at a party at the home of Miss McFarren's aunt, Mrs. Luther M. Ray, 414 East Twentieth street, were members of a club of school friends who have been meeting together for two years.

Announcement was made by the traditional passing of the box of cracker and later little red firecrackers at the places of the guests gave away the names of the bride and groom, which is to be July 26.

The ceremony will be solemnized at the Santa Ana wedding chapel and will be followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents.

Sniffers Sniffle In Vain

By CLAUD N. CHRISMAN, M. D.

There is probably no group of ailing people who can unanimously tell more hopeless stories of downright misery than the hayfever sufferers. One out of every fifty persons in our country is handicapped by the disabilities, not to mention the distress, of this stubborn and baffling disease.

Its victims grow desperate and pursue countless nostrums in the hope of relief.

Every form of bath, hot or cold, liquid or steam, competes with ice packs to the feet, the spine or the throat. Whisky is a favorite remedy and perhaps it does overcome the chills.

We shall discuss now a few of the factors in the study and behavior of this prevailing torment.

First, why do people have hayfever? Well, they have an allergy. In other words there is something in the blood stream that causes the mucous membranes of the nose, eyes and throat, to react to the pollen of certain trees, flowers, plants, and often to the hair and "scruff" of animals.

It is a condition in the blood of the body, because the tendency is very frequently inherited and if the blood of a hayfever victim is injected into a normal person, this person will become allergic to similar pollens. It is a sensitiveness to certain irritations but the cause is in the blood.

When do they have the trouble? There are three seasons for hayfever. First, the spring time begins at the end of March and lasts until the end of May. It is due to the pollens of trees, such as the oak, elm, maple, birch and hickory.

The second or summer type commences about the last of May and extends into July. This is caused by the pollens of grasses, such as June grass, orchard grass, sweet vernal, timothy and plantain. The third or fall type, which is the most common, begins in the middle of August and continues until frost.

Orange Cup Cakes

By JUDITH WILSON

Use of fresh fruits in summer cooking adds variety and interest to desserts.

A delicious cup cake which uses orange juice among its ingredients will be a new note for many cooks.

It is made as follows: These take but a jiffy to make and they are delicious with ice cream, sherbet, chilled custard or a jellied dessert. Sift 1-1/2 cups cake flour with 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1/4 teaspoon salt and 3/4 cup sugar. Respit into a bowl and make a well in the center. Into this drop 1 egg, 1/4 cup softened butter, 1/4 cup evaporated milk or cream, 1/4 cup orange juice and a few gratings of orange rind. Stir together, then beat until the batter is smooth. Bake in greased muffin tins about 25 minutes.

The Story of Our Missions

Twenty-one Franciscan missions were founded in California by the Rev. Fray Junipero Serra, extending from San Diego to what is now Sonoma county. The state department of public works has prepared brief histories of them with directions on how to reach them. They will be taken up in the order of their locations from south to north, rather than in the sequence of their founding. The twelfth installment, telling the story of how Father Serra founded Mission San Miguel Arcangel, follows:

MISSION SAN MIGUEL ARCANGEL

Founded July 25, 1797

Fate elevated Mission San Miguel Arcangel to the heights of happiness and prosperity in the early decades of Franciscan administration and then flung it into depths of degradation and tragedy during the years of its decline under Mexican misrule in California and the turbulent period following American occupation. However, the spirit of its old past never entirely deserted the mission and the latter part of the nineteenth century saw its resurgence and later its gradual restoration to its present attractive state.

Twelfth of the Franciscan stations on El Camino Real, south to north, San Miguel Arcangel, "The Mission on the Highway," was the sixteenth founded. Father Presidente of the Missions Fermín de Lasuen, who succeeded Father Junipero Serra, himself blessed the site and raised the cross for the mission on July 25, 1797, at a place on the Salinas river called by the Indians Vahca, by the Spaniards Las Pozas and known today as San Miguel, 12 miles north of Paso Robles in San Luis Obispo county.

Upon his arrival with Garpar de Paula in San Diego on July 17, 1769, Fr. Serra had visioned a chain of missions stretching from there to San Francisco and each a day's journey apart, but 11 years after his death there existed, in 1780, a gap between Mission San Luis Obispo and Mission San Antonio. In the summer of that year, Governor Diego Borcia, desiring to close this gap, sent out an expedition to search for a new mission site, and with this party went Father Buenaventura Sitar of Mission San Antonio.

Near Hot Springs
Fr. Sitar, after careful explorations, chose a spot near the hot springs of Paso Robles, used in that day by the Indians and now known far and wide for their medicinal virtues. Fr. Lasuen reported the findings of Fr. Sitar to Governor Borcia and the latter petitioned Viceroy Branciforte in Mexico for permission to establish a mission on the site. The viceroy gave his approval, saying: "I have reason to believe that the site is good and that the Indians should be San Miguel Arcangel."

And so it was that Fr. Lasuen, founding the mission two years after Fr. Sitar's report, dedicated it in honor of "the most glorious Prince of the Celestial Militia, Arcangel St. Michael."

The work of the padres at San Luis Obispo and San Antonio had become known to the Indians in the country between the two stations so that when Fr. Lasuen arrived to found San Miguel, the natives assembled at the site in great numbers. In musty but legible ancient records one may read in Fr. Lasuen's handwriting that "the many pagans who had flocked together and were present during the whole function offered 15 of their children, and with such great desires that they were made Christians, that I had to solemnly bless the baptismal font. Then in the same enamada (arbor) which had served that morning for the celebration of the holy Sacrifice of the Mass, I solemnly baptized Miguel Maria."

Baptize 14 That Day
Miguel Maria was the first of 11 boys and three girls the good padre baptized that afternoon of July 25, 1797.

The Fr. Presidente left Fr. Sitar to Fr. Antonio de la Concepcion Horra at the new mission and the priests, with the aid of the friendly Indians, immediately set themselves to the task of constructing a church and dwellings for themselves and the neophytes. Four weeks after the ceremony of dedication, Fr. Horra became violently insane and frightened the natives and the guards alike by his mad behavior. Historians attribute the loss of his mental faculties to extreme summer heat. The poor friar was taken to Monterey, pronounced incurable and sent back to Mexico.

The annual report of December, 1798, states that the temporary church was replaced by a more permanent edifice at the end of 1797.

Building operations progressed steadily and in 1805 we find the padres adding 47 adobe huts to their community and turning out 10,000 tiles to roof the mission and other structures.

Priests Poisoned
Father Sitar and Serra were replaced by Father Juan Martin

Sidewalk Spectator:

To the Journal: With the vacation season getting under way we are offering, free of charge, a good suggestion to those who are fortunate enough to be too poor to go some distance to get tired out and mosquito bitten.

It's just this: Make a note of all your friends (if you have any) and acquaintances, together with the dates they'll leave and return on their vacation. Then—

Immediately after their return, hurry over to see them before they have a chance to get their snap shots developed. The reason is obvious.

And this will no doubt hold good for all followers of Ye County Ed Brick Gaines, who is expected back Monday from the wilds of Patagonia. We expect him to have a couple dozen rolls of film snaps of fells domestica gigantius, Brook Trouticus gigantius, or some other gigantius.

Yours 'til tomorrow, the Fourth, GLENN L. THORNE, The Sidewalk Spectator.

administrator. Father Juan Moreno remained on at the mission until 1840. In 1838 he complained bitterly that there was no food or clothing for himself and his Indians.

An inventory taken in 1837 placed a valuation of $82,806 upon the mission and its property. To what sad estate the mission fell in a few years is indicated by a report on every mission in California which the Mexican government required Father Prefecto Duran to draw up in 1844. Reporting on San Miguel, and date of March 18, Father Duran wrote: "Mission San Miguel Arcangel is today without livestock, and the neophytes are demoralized and dispersed for want of a priest to care for them."

On Oct. 28, 1845, Gov. Pio Pico forced his assembly to decree the sale of all missions and, as we have seen, proceeded to sell the Franciscan stations wholesale. San Miguel was the last one sold. It was disposed of by Pico to Petronillo Rios and William Reed on July 4, 1846, just three days before the American flag was raised at Monterey and Pico fled the country.

Sept. 2, 1859, President James Buchanan returned San Miguel to the Catholic church, all of Pico's mission sales having been declared illegal by the United States district court.

After taking over the mission, Reed and his family took up their residence there. One year later he and his wife, his 3-year-old son, his wife's brother, Jose Ramon, Jose Olivera, a midwife, and her daughter aged 15, and the latter's 5-year-old nephew, and a negro cook, were brutally murdered in their quarters.

Murderers Captured
It seems that in Dec. 1848, a party of five men stopped at the mission and were entertained by Reed, who unwisely boasted of having considerable gold. Leaving their host, presumably to continue their journey south, the ruffians, headed after dark, killed all the occupants of the mission and fled with Reed's gold and other valuables.

Soldiers from Santa Barbara overtook them near Ortega rancho, killed one of them, forced another Samuel Brenard, to jump into the sea, where he drowned, and took the surviving three back to Santa Barbara for trial. They were executed on Dec. 25, 1848.

"The discovery of gold early in 1848," says Father Engelhardt, mission historian, "attracted all kinds of adventurer's and fortune hunters to California. Being situated on the highway between Los Angeles and San Francisco, the deserted mission buildings of San Miguel in consequence became a refuge for wanderers, gamblers, drunks and outlaws. A saloon occupied one of the ancient reception rooms, whilst on the other side of the main entrance the apartment, probably occupied by the resident missionary in the days of mission activity, served as a sample room and agency for church furnishings."

Mission Restored
These conditions prevailed until 1878, when Bishop Frances Mora appointed the Rev. Philip Farrelly resident pastor of San Miguel and its dependencies, including Fr. Robles. A new and happier one for San Miguel began. Father Farrelly and his successors took to work to restore the old mission. The centennial of the founding of San Miguel was celebrated with a three-day festival arranged by Father Henry S. O'Reilly Sept. 28, 29 and 30, 1897. And in 1901 the main building of the mission, which had many apartments was renovated.

On Nov. 13, 1912, marble slabs placed over the tombs of the Franciscan missionaries, Father Marcelino Cipres and Father Juan Martin, who lies beneath the church, were unveiled and blessed at an impressive ceremony attended by many church dignitaries.

In 1928, Rt. Rev. John B. MacGinley, bishop of the diocese of Monterey-Fresno, offered San Miguel and Mission San Antonio to the Franciscan provincial of Santa Barbara province, his offer was accepted and in August of that year, two fathers and a lay brother took possession of San Miguel.

Since that time the mission has been steadily improved and today is one of California's cherished

Keep Hair Healthy

By JACQUELINE HUNT

Have you seen them—top-knots and curls shiny and alive that you could hardly resist touching them? I do not believe there is anything so exciting and lovely to look at as a really healthy head of hair.

From the letters I receive asking for help with hair problems, I believe that all of you would like a little information on the fundamental principles of caring for the hair and perhaps something about the hair itself.

The behavior of the oil glands and the condition of the hair itself depend on good general health, an active circulation of blood in the scalp and intelligent external care. The latter includes thorough cleansing and stimulation through shampoos, brushing, massaging and the proper use of tonics or other preparations.

Women often ask how often one should shampoo. There is no better answer than "When your hair is dirty." This varies with your location, the time of year and your occupation. The average woman with normal hair will find that her hair needs washing about every ten days.

Usually any good plain soap or liquid shampoo that lathers freely in warm water may be used. Very dry hair sometimes reacts best to melted castile soap than to one of the soaps or shampoos if you live in hard-water districts. An antiseptic soap, such as tar soap or tincture of green soap, added to ordinary liquid soap is best for very oily hair.

For your rinse, you can use nothing better than soft, pure rainwater like grandmother used to catch in her rain barrel. If you cannot use this, lemon juice or vinegar added to the last rinse water will help to do the same thing for you.

CHAPTER 49
"Oh, my room is just at the corner, sir. I'm like you—I'm going to keep out of it. I don't understand what it's all about but I do know it is there. The gunboat come down there's going to be a bloody fight. It's not my affair. I'm off to the wife and children."

"You're a good fellow, Pierre. Were you up here looking for me?"
"I was, sir," the man acknowledged. "There's been a rumor going round that you were on your way here. There was an other rumor that you had had a smash in an aeroplane. Then some one else thought that you had got a car at Lyons. There's just one thing I must mention. That wicked looking young woman who has got them all on fire she gave her orders, and they were to be stopped going on your boat, but if you came to any harm without her instructions she was going to shoot the man who did it!"

Hamer smiled faintly.
"She's a great person in the wrong place, Pierre," he said, slowly commencing to bend down the line with Pierre standing on the step. "She's the disciple of a dangerous faith—sublime for some, hell for others who have no understanding."

The man shrugged his shoulders.
"I don't understand Monsieur," he confessed.
Hamer only shook his head. They had reached the corner of the road and Pierre stepped off the boat. Hamer then turned round and threw in the clutch.

"You take my advice, sir, and clear right away," Pierre begged. "If you show yourself on the Madeleine, Tanya or no Madeleine, Tanya—they mean bloodshed."

"Friendship Knot" is Quilter's Pride

Household Arts by Alice Brooks

Friendship Knot, that popular old-time quilt earned its name from the custom of friends contributing scraps to form a block, thus making this a lasting remembrance of their friendship. You'll find the variety of the scraps used adds fascination to the work.

In pattern 5624 you will find the Block Chart, an illustration for cutting, sewing and finishing, together with yardage chart, diagram of quilt to help arrange the blocks for single and double bed size, and a diagram of block which serves as a guide for placing the patches and suggests contrasting materials.

To obtain this pattern send 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to Santa Ana Journal Household Arts Department, 117 East Fifth Street. Be sure to write plainly your name, address and pattern number.

CHICAGO. (AP)—Responding to late jumps of nearly 5 cents a bushel in Winnipeg quotations, Chicago wheat prices rallied more than 3 1/2 cents today from preceding setbacks. The upturn in Chicago, however, failed to hold.

Reports of acutely increasing need of funds to relieve drought stricken areas in Canada were reported as largely responsible for renewal of bulging prices.

Wheat closed irregular, 1 cent lower to 1 1/2 higher compared with yesterday's finish. July, 1.00 1/2, 1.01

An Open Message to Strikers

WHY don't you quit this foolishness and go back to work? Can't you see by now that the strike is a washout? That it has failed?

Every single packing house in the county has been able to pick its quota every day, just as though you never went out on a strike.

There have been hundreds of men and boys who grabbed your jobs just as fast as you walked out. They are now getting the money that you would be getting.

Even if they weren't, many ranchers and their families would get out in the groves and pick, if it became necessary.

And to top it all, the Valencia crop can stay on the trees for months and months longer without perishing.

But you can't afford to stay out of work any longer. You need your jobs and the money you can make picking oranges.

You need money, too, to help you through the fall and winter months after all the oranges have been picked and there is not much work to be found.

Why don't you go back to the fruit and earn good food and new clothes for your wife and children? They are going without the things they need because some men have given you bad advice about striking.

Do not be afraid of these men who say they will hurt you if you go back to work. They will not touch you if you make up your minds firmly. And there are many special officers to give you full protection.

You men are the experienced orange pickers of Southern California. You have perfected yourselves in the work through years of experience. You should do the work in your chosen line. The growers realize this and will be glad, we believe, to give back jobs to all they can hire.

The strike has failed. Do not listen any longer to foolish leaders. Listen to your own hearts. And to your wives and children.

Be wise. Be brave. Return to your jobs.

A flaming cross in an eastern city was believed to be the work of drunken mischief makers. Apparently out on a hot cross bun.

The Pope Raps Hollywood

SEXY cinemas face the boycott of Catholics, according to the instructions which Pope Pius has issued from Vatican City to bishops throughout the world, and especially in America. The pope charges that American movie producers have gone back on the decency code which they adopted in 1930.

Anybody who goes to the movies knows that there are raw spots in lots of pictures which could just as well have been left out.

Some cash customers, of course, find dirt entertaining. But that's no reason to make all of us—women and children included—swallow it.

The movies are the most popular form of family entertainment in America today. They make us laugh, cry and breathlessly follow the hero and heroine. And they do worlds for education—when used in the right way.

Hollywood should take a hint from the pope's sharp action . . . and clean up.

It's not strange that the modern girl is a live-wire. She carries practically no insulation.

Alf No Baby-Kisser

THE Office Republican tells us that Gov. Alf Landon has a new idea in campaigning. Instead of the time-honored method of winning votes by kissing all the babies in sight, the G. O. P. presidential nominee has his two youngest children, Nancy Jo, 3, and John Cobb, 2, pinch hit for him. While on his way to Colorado for a vacation, Landon had the two youngsters on the rear platform of the train at several stops, and they shook hands with the children in the crowd.

This method may not be quite as good a vote-getter as baby-kissing, but it's certainly a lot easier on the candidate—and on the babies, too.

Only now and then do you meet a man strong enough to get the better of himself.

Make It Safer This Year

TOMORROW will be a busy day for doctors and hospitals. They'll be treating little boys whose fingers have been blown off, and little girls whose eyeballs are black with powder burns. It's the Fourth of July.

Let's hope that nothing like this happens in Orange county. Last year—the old files tell us—just two boys went to the local hospital from careless handling of fireworks.

Perhaps, if every parent helps every youngster and guards against accidents, this Fourth will go by without a serious casualty.

What Price Those Millions?

WHAT good is wealth to a sick man? The plight of J. P. Morgan, multi-millionaire capitalist, illustrates the value of health over wealth.

All his millions are of small avail as he writhes under the torture of neuritis. Poverty is indeed an evil which we naturally try to avoid. But it is not so great an enemy as sickness.

Probably Morgan would trade all his stocks, estates and yachts for a young, strong, healthy body and for the ability to enjoy life.

Whimsies of O. O. McIntyre

Thoughts while strolling: It was Bert Lytell who got Earl Carroll going bareheaded to cure baldness—and now look! Ted Saucier throws more parties than a champ wrestler. At present rate Hollywood will soon have them all. Save perhaps George M. Cohan.

Look alike: M. Lincoln Schuster, O. O. McIntyre and Samuel Hoffenstein. Abel Green, who labels them "Variety mugs," Rebecca West's favorite dog is a mongrel she calls Ermytrude. Nobody looks slicker in a blazer than Bill Tilden. And Carole Lombard was made for sports togs.

Add constant cronies: Deac Aylesworth and Kent Cooper. Few grander ladies than Helen Willis Moody. Erskine Gwynne is beginning to resemble Winston Churchill. That always worldly knot in front of the Automat. The spawning ground of U. S. Broadway wise-crack. The nifty!

For the Look the Same as They Did 15 Years Ago Club: Beatrice Lillie. Duke Cross graying at the temples. But could still do a bit of matinee idolism. No handsome police captains any more like Jim Churchill. What's become of Mark Leuschner? Grand old Roman profile: Booth Tarkington's. Edward Bernays, who retitled press agents publicity counsels, and gave them a Big Business aura. Never saw Clara Bell Walsh without a dog. Tough for chili parlor these torrid days. The boys who try to give straw hats that Harry Richman tilt. And muff. It's a gift.

One of the dainty porcelain bits in the glittering cafe Mosaic has been the little Chinese lady, Mamie See, a doll come to life. She burst on the New York scene in Morris Gest's imported Chinese play from London, a sort of mistress of ceremony. She has been squired about by the perennial knight George Jean Nathan. The daughter of the Chinese Ambassador to Washington, her real name is Yuen Tsung. While living most of her life abroad, she attended Wellesley, speaks English without accent, has never been to China and is thrilled by "No. 21."

Hollywood in a sudden shift becomes the radio center as well as the film capital. The biggest of the air entertainment are scheduled to take off from there next August. Chief reason: "Name talent," meaning the picture stars, is more readily available at the source. To bargain on the coast for the attractions is cheaper and there is the opportunity to get the Clark Gables and Joan Crawford for guest stars between pictures. Also the guest star invariably rates a national plug for his or her currently released film.

I've thought that among the most useless of things was that tiny bow found invariably inside a man's hat, a relic of the long ago, a hatter informs me, when there were no hat sizes and the wearer had a slip strap around where the band is now for head adjustment. When adjusted the ends were tied into a bow and for sentimental reasons the small reminder was always retained. Back in the Gay 90's the girls used to save and string them for a mirror decoration.

The same informant is authority for why men walk outside the lady along the sidewalks. In earlier days it was to protect her from splashes of mud from the street. And what is now the walking stick was carried to chase mongrels away. The butt hole on the coat lapel was to close and protect the throat.

Irving Caesar invests a couple of 59-cent dollars to telegraph that New York loud shirts are not the same class with Boris Morros in Hollywood. Among other things Morros has a design of carnations, another with dollar signs and still another with all the colors of the rainbow. Even Caesar, who has up to now stuck to plain white, has burst forth with a magenta creation. And there's a canary yellow with lightning streak of red on the fire. Once they go loud shirt there's no stopping them.

Hannen Swaffer drops a note about the Fleet street journalist who lost his fear of death reading the self-written epitaph of Matthew Pryor's in the Poets' Corner in Westminster Abbey: "To me 'tis given to die, to you 'tis given to live. Alas! One moment to live, alas! One moment to die. Mark how impartial is the will of Heaven."

"Swaff," by the way, is one of London's most ardent spiritualists. (Copyright, 1936)

SCIENCE NEWS
Dr. Ira B. Bartle, of California, recently reported taking a colony of soil bacteria from the wall of a Tumacacori Mission, Nogales, Ariz., where they had been sealed for two and a half centuries. Although they had been kept in a state of latent life for this time, they were revived and began to multiply normally. Dr. Bartle further explains that many forms of bacteria can survive for centuries owing to the fact that when removed from oxygen, the walls of the cells thicken until life within is protected against all conditions except fire.

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON.—Now that the preliminary political cannonading is over, the big job facing the President is to get some of the important administrative problems piled on his desk out of the way before the campaign begins in earnest.

Congress dumped several tough ones in his lap, another came along with the drought, and he wants to get the administrative machine running smoothly before he takes to the stump. Here are the chief administrative activities he will either supervise himself, or keep an eye on during the summer:

TAXES.—The treasury faces the big job of putting into operation the new system of corporation taxes passed by congress. A special committee of income tax lawyers is now drafting regulations covering each section of the bill. Taxes under the bill are payable next March 15. Corporations, however, will change their dividend policy this year in order to escape the penalty tax on undivided surpluses.

DROUGHT.—Henry Wallace's experts have informed Roosevelt that the present drought may become as serious as the one in 1934. A committee has been appointed to deal with human relief, livestock relief, and eradication of pests. The President is ready to divert large sums from the relief appropriation to the stricken states, if necessary, and ask congress for additional funds next session to make it up.

SOIL CONSERVATION.—Wallace has reported that he expects a larger adherence—that is, more participating farmers—of his new plan than to the old A.A. But this is only surmise. The main uncertainty is the extent to which soil conservation will bring about crop control and maintain farm prices. The new program meets its real test this summer.

CRIME.—G. Boss J. Edgar Hoover, having mopped up most of the big-shot racketeers, hopes to catch this summer with 12,849 cases now under investigation and 5,000 others not yet assigned. They include all offenses against the federal government except counterfeiting and narcotic violations.

LABOR.—The President is carefully watching reports on John L. Lewis' drive to organize the steel participating farmers—of his new plan than to the old A.A. But this is only surmise. The main uncertainty is the extent to which soil conservation will bring about crop control and maintain farm prices. The new program meets its real test this summer.

FINANCE.—The cash balance in the treasury is now at the record peak of about $3,000,000,000, of which $1,700,000,000 is being paid out to veterans. There will be new new financing this summer. The President's financial advisers are keeping a keen eye on the foreign situation, and stabilization of the dollar is not out of the question. It would be a good move just before election, but depends chiefly on whether France falls off the gold standard. RELIEF.—WPA and PWA will carry on as usual, with about 3,000,000 jobs on the rolls. There will be few changes in policy except for the prevailing wage on all WPA jobs and the new rule that any able-bodied, needy worker recommended by state authorities can get on the rolls.

James Sleeper, county assessor, and his deputies have completed the task of finishing the tax rolls, and took them to the supervisors this morning so that the latter may fix the tax rate. ### Careless Men Have Their Little Day

THE CHASTLY details of that "snake murder" case give the reader a sinking spell in the stomach. How human cunning can be so base, or human decency so utterly callous passes all understanding. When passion or greed or vengeance break out in murderous fury the motive, at least, is clear. And there may be a little excuse for such unstrained violence. But this dastardly, inhuman, unfeeling torture of a helpless woman shows neither sense nor selfish motive. It is nothing but bestial squirming in the mire. Lugging respectable rattlesnakes into the gruesome picture is certainly an insult to the snakes.

This creature called "man" is a curious mixture of the high and low, of the divine and the devilish. Always as he climbs the heights, the slimy claws of jungle forces snatch at him, the hot breath of lurking passions flush his cheeks, writhing tentacles ensnare his feet. While the whole along the plateaus of humanity sweeps on, violence, murder, lustful passion, snatching for pride and place and power, lying hypocrisy, betrayal of honor, friendship and decency, strife and tumult, the continuous yapping and squalling of frenzied millions. And all the time the parasites are busy eating the people's substance. It was a wise remark once when a tired pilgrim in life's way said, "The more I see of men the better I like dogs."

Society must finally take some measures to protect itself from internal disorders or suffer dissolution and decay. There seems to

ONE MORE RESOLUTION
(Seattle Star)

Now that it's all over and both sides have had their innings, we may as well get down to cases and admit the shameful truth. And that truth is that the American method of nominating national party candidates is childish, fantastic, boorish, moronic and is a large dark blot against the intelligence of the people of the United States.

The blatant, insane, discordant, idiotic, even maniacal circus antics of supposedly sane human beings engaged in what should be one of the most solemn duties of any group of citizens of any republic, has turned a nation of their neighbors nauseous and indignant in these last few weeks.

And one party was almost equally as bad as the other in every respect—in convention. Such affairs were sad enough when the delegates raved and ranted in a closed hall in years gone by, with none but themselves and a few strong-stomached on-lookers to be affected—and with a large element of their mass insanity sifted out by news reporters who presented a more or less coherent account of the doings to a waiting world.

But with the nation tuned in on the national madhouses by radio with the raucous-voiced leading actors and their thousands of puppet supernumeraries brought right to the edge of the family dining table in millions of homes, it was almost too much to bear.

All of America was a headache, a weak feeling in the region of the lower torso, and a sad sense of shame at the vast craziness that was generated by the conventions at Cleveland and at Philadelphia.

In all seriousness this newspaper suggests as the first order of business for all American political conventions affirmative action by acclamation on the following resolution:

"We hereby pledge ourselves and our party hereafter when in convention to act like normal, polite human beings, like ladies and gentlemen—and not like a bunch of damphoons."

What to do with Zioncheck is no longer a party problem. It has become a national issue.—Marion Zioncheck, playboy congressman from Washington.

This is the year that women are to be the deciding election factor. There are three significant groups, the youngsters, the farmers and the women—and the greatest of these is the women.—Congresswoman Florence P. Kahn, California.

We did not abolish freedom of the press, but only press anarchy. What is called "freedom of the press" in like countries is really the worst tyranny that ever existed, anonymously.—Paul Goebbels, German propaganda minister.

The chief value of mopping is the spiritual value the moppers themselves get out of it.—Martin F. Young, Chicago college student who mops floors to pay tuition.

"Did you yell for help when you were held up?" "I started to, but the bandits told me that if I didn't shut up they'd call the police."

Social Leader: A woman who lets her family eat in the dining room when there isn't any company.

Careless Men Have Their Little Day

THE CHASTLY details of that "snake murder" case give the reader a sinking spell in the stomach. How human cunning can be so base, or human decency so utterly callous passes all understanding. When passion or greed or vengeance break out in murderous fury the motive, at least, is clear. And there may be a little excuse for such unstrained violence. But this dastardly, inhuman, unfeeling torture of a helpless woman shows neither sense nor selfish motive. It is nothing but bestial squirming in the mire. Lugging respectable rattlesnakes into the gruesome picture is certainly an insult to the snakes.

This creature called "man" is a curious mixture of the high and low, of the divine and the devilish. Always as he climbs the heights, the slimy claws of jungle forces snatch at him, the hot breath of lurking passions flush his cheeks, writhing tentacles ensnare his feet. While the whole along the plateaus of humanity sweeps on, violence, murder, lustful passion, snatching for pride and place and power, lying hypocrisy, betrayal of honor, friendship and decency, strife and tumult, the continuous yapping and squalling of frenzied millions. And all the time the parasites are busy eating the people's substance. It was a wise remark once when a tired pilgrim in life's way said, "The more I see of men the better I like dogs."

Society must finally take some measures to protect itself from internal disorders or suffer dissolution and decay. There seems to

This is about the time of year when luncheon club presidents are "kicked" out and new ones are "kicked" in. In other words it's raspberry time for service clubs. Wrecking crews, hecklers, insulters, impudence and discourtesy predominate, but if it didn't the members would think the club had gone domestic. After inflicting every insult the human mind is capable of thinking of, the afflicted gets the healing balm of recognition and a nice little token of esteem. It's one case where familiarity does not breed contempt.

You still have time to buy your fireworks. The ones which make the least noise will get the least attention from the policemen.

Pete Busker and Barney Koster collecting dues and fines at the Breakfast club, and then trying to balance the budget, was one of the numbers on the Thursday morning program not officially scheduled. The incident was apropos, however, as the club had just heard a political address by Floyd Stewart about the Philadelphia convention.

My boss wants to know "What's Wrong with Birch Park?" There isn't anything wrong with it except there isn't enough of it.

Bob Brown and Alex Brownridge in confidential conference. Alex contemplates a trip to Scotland—sometime and in a justly natural conclusion that Bob was offering to help finance the journey, but close investigation revealed that he was trying to find out of Alex when the boat sailed.

Friend Abbey suggests that I buy myself a book on astrology so I can tell where I'm going. Why make that investment? My friends remind me of it every day. What do you think we got Bert Casteix for?

Earl Pfeifer found out from a friend that another friend of long ago inquired about him. An admission was made that the party making the inquiry had known Earl in the dim and distant past. The meeting resulted in a proposed reunion which may or may not take place. But when I inventory the young and youthful looking Pfeifer, I naturally imagine that the acquaintance was of such ancient vintage. Maybe the party turning in the information to Earl just wanted to make him think it was a long time.

All the joy was taken out of the explosion of a giant firecracker when the policeman arrived at the same time the giant thing exploded. And a small boy wants to know why you can buy 'em and can't shoot 'em? All I know is what I read in the ordinance.

Friend comes in to report an observation. Notices one lady coming down the street with a generous sized fur around her neck, and the next one in shorts. He said he admired the independence of the average woman in the selection of her wardrobe, but he was unable to harmonize its consistency with the seasons. Well, if he ever does solve the feminine attitude on the dress problem he'll do better than Solomon did. I heard a rumor once that Solomon had a lot of experience.

I've been readin' a lot lately about soil erosion. But it's not exclusive. There has been considerable monetary erosion during the past few years, also.

I haven't any political preference when it comes to candidates and invitations. How a stomach can survive a campaign is a greater surprise than how the candidate can survive. I believe that before election is over there will be more indigestion than information.

Overheard in a grocery store! Customer: "Have you any potato chips?" He must have been the same fellow who went into a hardware store and wanted to know if they had any nails.

Citizen moves up to my good ear and began talking about a mint bed he had out at his house. For a moment I thought he was making some reference to Philadelphia, or Denver, or San Francisco, or where they had minted, but later on I found out he used to live in Kentucky.

When I see these little kiddies parked in automobiles while mother is out shopping, I do not worry so much about the child safety as I do their loneliness. There have been occasions in my young and old life when I have gone on shopping expeditions, and I did not mind it because there were no kiddies in a car waiting for me. But there does present itself that feature about the child waiting when mother is going to return, and I concern myself about something that is none of my business. If this little paragraph cuts down the shopping time it removes the longing in the child's mind just that much.
